

The Weather
Cloudy and Unsettled Tonight and Friday.
Warmer Tonight

"THE FLAMING JEWEL"
By Robert W. Chambers
Now Appearing In The Bee

READ WYL-U-RYD BOXES Use the
Every St. Car-- Every Day
CONVENIENT FOR PUBLIC Want Ads
For Results

FOUNDED FEBRUARY, 1899. NO. 7,351. DANVILLE, VA., THURSDAY AFTERNOON, NOVEMBER 2, 1922. PRICE: TWO CENTS

RAIL EXECUTIVE APOPLEXIC VICTIM

UNVEIL SHAFT TO PATRIOT

DeWitt Cuyler Is Found Dead In Private Car

Chairman of Rail Executives and Prominent Figure in Recent Strike Dies Suddenly at Philadelphia.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—Thomas DeWitt Cuyler, director of the Pennsylvania Railway company and chairman of the Railway executives association was found dead today in the private car of the Pennsylvania Railway in Broad street station. Apoplexy was the cause of death, physicians said.

Mr. Cuyler was a lawyer but most of his time was taken up with railway and financial affairs. He came before the country in the recent shop strike by virtue of his position as chairman of the railway executives and took a direct part in some of the demands by the strikers, especially that of seniority. He was born in Philadelphia 68 years ago.

Sunday "Drop-In" Hour At Y. W.

The first of the informal Sunday "drop-in" gatherings will be held Sunday afternoon from 4 until 5 o'clock. A very beautiful and impressive service based on the Lord's Prayer will be used for the first Sunday gathering. Miss Winifred Allen, of Averett college, will sing the solo numbers of the service. "Last Words" by De Haven, and "Holy Art Thou" by Handel at the close of this very interesting little service tea will be served and a short social period enjoyed. A cordial invitation to drop into the Y. W. C. A. on Sunday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock is extended to every girl and any others who might be interested.

U. S. May Require An Apology

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
LONDON, Nov. 2.—The case of the American consulate at Newcastle has been definitely settled. It is understood here but the opinion is expressed that the United States is expected to make an apology for the charges of discrimination against British shipping leading to the closing of the consulate last summer.

Average Expenses Of Danville Family

Interesting Figures Given at Office of United States Labor Department.

BY GEORGE H. MANNING
(Special to The Bee.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2.—The average workingman's family of Danville spends $73.23 yearly on furniture and miscellaneous household furnishings, $42.28 on insurance and $16.23 on automobiles, motorcycles and bicycles.

The average Danville workingman's family's contribution to the churches during the year is $10.13, which is more than the $7.81 spent on the movies, and in excess of the $7.18 spent annually on liquor. But it is not nearly so much as the $16.56 spent on tobacco annually by the average Danville workingman's family.

These are the figures of expense arrived at by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Labor Department, from a study of costs of living, embracing details gathered from 12,000 families.

Despite the inroads made by the automobile on street car travel the average Danville workingman's family will find the dentist gets $2.22 and $10.33 goes for medicine.

The U. S. Labor Department finds that 29.7 per cent. of the families use liquor at an average cost to them of $24.12 a year, which brings the average for all the workingman's families to $2.18.

As many as $0.7 per cent. of all the families use tobacco, at an average annual cost of $20.53, making the average for all the workingman's families $1.25.

Forty-nine per cent. of the families paid taxes either personal property or income, at an average cost of $2.79 per family, making the average for all the workingman's families $1.23.

The average workingman's family is now making good use of the telephone, the annual cost being $4.62.

Laundry, the most expensive, is paid by 74 per cent. of the workingman's families, at an average cost of $21.29, making the average for all the workingman's families $1.23.

As many as $0.7 per cent. of all the families use tobacco, at an average annual cost of $20.53, making the average for all the workingman's families $1.25.

DAUGHTER NAMES MOTHER IN DIVORCE

MRS. GEORGE PARKHURST

Mrs. George Parkhurst, a 70-year-old great-grandmother, has been named as co-respondent in the divorce suit brought by her daughter, Mrs. George Parkhurst, of Boston.

Launch Drive For Giving to Episcopal Church

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—To awaken the conscience and intelligence of the people of the Protestant Episcopal church to the needs set out in the program adopted at the Portland General Convention, thereby raising the average of the church, is the main object in view in the nationwide campaign to be conducted wholly within the ranks of the church, according to a statement by Chicago headquarters of the denomination.

Results of the campaign in the three years now closing encourage church leaders in the belief that the ensuing three years will be equally successful, says the statement, quoting the secretary of the field department.

"In the eighty-eight dioceses of the church in the United States the work of informing our people of the great educational program and explaining the educational methods to the leaders, already is going forward," continues the statement. "Our reports show enthusiasm and determination that will go for another big advance in the missionary educational and social service fields."

The program which fixed a budget of $21,000,000 for the year 1922-23 will support 3,000 missionaries in America and throughout the world and carry on the work of religious and social service to which the church is committed. A forward program also was adopted involving an additional $8,400,000 of which eighty-two per cent. will be spent in the United States and its territories, possessions, for hospitals, schools, new churches and community houses with special emphasis upon work among Indians, negroes, mountaineers and mill workers, according to plans of Americanization and rural and industrial effort also come under the program.

An appropriation of $2,000,000 for denominational colleges and for student work at fifty-five of the great secular institutions all over the land, is provided in the program. The budget is to be raised by quotas in the three years ending 1925.

Wife's Throat Cut for Spite and Jealousy Because of Her Fine Voice, Sexton Says

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 1.—Looking up from work in a coal bin in the basement of the schoolhouse where he is janitor, James Mills, whose wife Eleanor Mills was killed with Rev. E. W. Hall, September 14th, today took issue with some of the statements made by Mrs. Hall. He differed with Mrs. Hall chiefly on the time he saw her the night of the murder. "I never heard gossip about my wife," he said. "If I had I would not have stood for it for a minute."

"I am man enough not to have kept my job at the church if I thought there was anything wrong between my wife and Dr. Hall," Mills said. "I never heard of his wife having trouble and knew of no enemies of Dr. Hall."

There was plenty of talk of the "shot" he states. Mills said he was at the church at 8:30 on the morning of Sept. 15.

Mrs. Hall said yesterday that she was at the church at seven. The first "shot" she asked was, "Was anyone seen at your house last night?"

"We then talked about both my wife and her husband missing and I said maybe they have eloped."

"No," was her reply. "I think something is wrong to them."

"At noon when Mrs. Hall came to my house I said I had heard nothing and she said the same thing," Mills said. He did not know why he ever suggested that she was the murderer. Mrs. Hall's statement that she was not vindictive, Mills said. "I am not vindictive either but I want to see the slayer punished. I believe it."

Premier Bonar Law Addresses Women

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
LONDON, Nov. 2.—Minister Bonar Law in an address before women at the Drug Lane theatre today reiterated that his policy was to be one of tranquility and stability. As regards foreign policy, he said, "I venture to express the hope that America may gradually take an interest in the League of Nations in some form or other and feel that it is her duty to help in the chaos in which the war has left the world."

Josephus Daniels Springs Surprise

Partisan Political Trick in New York Revealed by Former Naval Secretary.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Declaring he obtained his information from Josephus Daniels former secretary of the navy and his son Jonathan, a student of Columbia university, the New York World today printed a story saying that the former naval secretary had devised a partisan plan to employ Republican students at the college as special deputies at the polls on Tuesday. The young men will be paid $10 a day out of a $100,000 fund authorized by the legislature.

Young Daniels according to the World says that he learned that some of his fellow students were going to make "easy money" at the election and that he counseled how he might do the same. He was referred to Miss Edith Fairchild, secretary of Dean Stone of the law school who, the World says, admitted she was making such a list.

"But I'm a southerner and I'm all Democrats," Miss Fairchild said, as quoted in the World.

"Why, yes," he replied and Miss Fairchild then said that it would do no good to apply. The young men told his father what had occurred and the older Daniels informed the World.

WEDDING LICENSES ISSUED

Wedding licenses have been issued by the clerk of the corporation to the following:

Tarleton Lewis Brown and Maude Estelle Tallock, Danville.

Silas Jerry Smith and Louise Murphy Caswell county, N. C.

Jesse Birch Smith and Carrie May Workman, Schoolfield.

Funeral of Thomas Phillips

The funeral of Thomas Phillips, who died at his home on Wood avenue last night, will be conducted from that place this afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. John Marshall. Mr. Phillips had been an invalid for the past two years and his death was not unexpected. Besides his wife, he leaves three daughters and four sons. Interment will be in Schoolfield cemetery.

Patrick Henry's Old Home Is Scene Of Exercises Today

Oliver J. Sands Will Speak Here Saturday Morning

Oliver J. Sands, of Richmond, executive manager of the Co-operative Marketing Association whose sudden illness last Saturday prevented his speaking engagements in Danville and Chatham will be here on Saturday. E. L. Walton stated today that Mr. Sands intends to carry out the programme which illness interfered with. Mr. Sands will arrive in Danville early on Saturday morning and at ten o'clock will speak at Ridge Street Tabernacle. He will go from here to Chatham where he is to speak at one o'clock in the afternoon. Members associated with the organization are interested in the message which Mr. Sands is expected to bring and it is anticipated that there will be large gatherings at both places.

Roller Skating Event Tonight

The Y. W. C. A. is planning a roller skating evening at the Municipal hall each Thursday from 7:30 until 9:30 o'clock. This will give those who delight in the joyous freedom and healthful exercise of skating an opportunity to enjoy their only and favorite sport. The general secretary of the Y. W. C. A., Mrs. E. J. Hinchcliffe, and the industrial secretary, Miss Mary Bullington, will be in the hall to greet the skaters. The roller skating evening is planned for girls only, and for girls over 15 years of age. It is suggested that all who have skates will use them. If the evening proves a popular one, the Y. W. C. A. will purchase skates for the purpose of renting them. The Municipal hall will be open this evening for skating at 7:30 o'clock.

Criminal Term Starts Monday

Preparations are being made in the office of the clerk of the court for the criminal term of court which will open next Monday morning. The grand jury has been drawn, also the petit jury and the city sergeant and his deputies are summoning not only but witnesses to appear in the several cases on the docket. There are twenty-three cases carried over from the previous term and a number of new indictments will be laid before the grand jury for consideration on Monday morning. One case of general interest which has been carried over from the previous term is that of the state against O. T. Cook, former policeman, who is charged with wounding Robert A. Benton. The case was continued at the last term of court because of the illness of a vital witness for the Commonwealth.

Getting Ready For Tuesday Election

Vandals Cut Tires While Car Owner Is Visiting Sick Man

Another act of Halloween vandalism has been reported. William O. Fitzgerald on Tuesday night went to visit a sick friend on Broad street and left his car parked on Broad street. While he was engaged on this mission persons unknown slashed his car tires several 10-penny nails being driven into the tires which were also slashed with a knife. The damage is estimated at about $50.

Carolina Farmer Slain By Negro

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WILSON, N. C., Nov. 2.—W. S. Bond, a farmer living on the farm of E. A. Dodge, was shot to death yesterday afternoon at his home. William McMillan, a negro charged with the murder, fled from the scene but was arrested near Asheville and taken to the county jail. It is stated that Bond and McMillan entered into an argument over some cotton being weighed. McMillan went to his home, it is claimed, returned with a knife and stabbed Bond five times, death resulting. The deceased was 37 and leaves a wife and two children.

Man Is Killed By Halloween Prank

ROANOKE, Nov. 1.—What is thought to have been a Halloween prank last night resulted in the death of Iron Lehr near the station at Holbrook, Va. Lehr who was this morning identified and his age given as 24, was riding a motorcycle when his machine crashed into a cross-belt that had been laid across the road.

GASOLINE...
SCHOOLFIELD...
11-1-13

...and tea, and protect
...with wholesome, satisfying

...!

FOR HEALTH

"There's a Reason"

grocer today!

um FOR HEALTH

ch. "There's a

o., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

1000

Princess Sells Her Interviews to Swell Slender Resources

Wedding Ceremony at Doorn on Sunday Will Be in a Former Stable—Unusual Precautions.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 1.—Henderson, author of "The Outline of History," has cabled the following remarkable story of the ex-Kaiser's love affair to the Baltimore Sun:

The utter disintegration and collapse of German morals and decency under pressure of terrible economic necessity was never shown with more astonishing clarity than by the inside story of an interview which probably soon will appear in several American newspapers. Indeed, the story seemed incredible that I have spent a week in verifying its details, but there is no doubt of its absolute truth.

It seems that the former German Emperor, a bride-to-be was exceeding hard up for ready cash when a former high court dignitary approached her with the suggestion that she sell an interview to foreign papers. The dignitary himself, acting through an intermediary, had provided a number of American and English papers and offered the story to a Dutch correspondent who, unwilling to believe such a thing was possible, insisted on seeing the proof before buying. The next day he was shown a typewritten statement with corrections made in Princess Hermine's handwriting.

It then appeared that the Princess had sold the original interview for foreign papers for as much as the traffic would bear.

The interview is entirely commonplace, but the high dignitary, who acted as intermediary, seemed delighted with the prospect of making some 1,000 marks in the price of a steak and French fries at a restaurant, and her agent was offering it to all easy money for thereupon he approached the same papers with an offer to get himself invited to the wedding and sell the inside story of the wedding to the highest bidder.

Meanwhile the chief act in next Sunday's comedy, apparently totally unconscious of how the outside world regards the silly comedy when the Emperor intends to crown his wife as Queen of Prussia in the former stable of a little Dutch country house, continues gaily to prepare for the wedding feast. While he is rehearsing his imperial and royal procession, Amsterdam tobacco shops are offering a German 50 mark note with each package of cigarettes.

Village Resembles Circus.

As for the village of Doorn, it begins to resemble the Saturn and Ebel circus in winter quarters, with a small army of reporters from the four corners of the globe turning his Majesty's festivities into a county fair, the like of which must be looked on for a painting of the Emperor's next Sunday passes without a ludicrous intermezzo. It will be entirely due to the small army of special constables which the Dutch government has sent to his Majesty's place, to expect that there will be a semblance of dignity maintained for the pious villagers, who would hate to see the quiet of their Sabbath disturbed by a one-night circus of royal Prussian origin.

HIGH RATES IF NEW SCHEDULE IS IMPOSED

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 1.—Excessive maximum class rates would result from the application of the new rate schedule proposed by the rail lines for the next summer freight territory, Edgar Moulton, assistant manager of the New Orleans Joint Traffic Bureau, declared at the southeastern hearing today. Mr. Moulton's testimony concerned itself mainly with population and crop production of the southeastern territory as a preliminary to the questions of the rates which he will take up tomorrow.

W. A. Mayfield, traffic expert for Swift & Company, argued for the establishment of a car load commodity rate on packing house products at the morning session. These products now take on any quantity commodity rate. Representatives of other packing interests sought to have the establishment of a car load commodity rate on the grounds of irrelevancy, but were unsuccessful.

The hearing, which is scheduled to end tomorrow, has been extended to November 7.

COTTON MARKET

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 15 points on October, but went 5 to 10 points higher on steady cables and rumors that Canadian mills had been heavy buyers in the local market late yesterday, and overnight buying orders. The market was quickly absorbed and the market sold about seven to fifteen points higher.

What are probably the first public library in the United States was started in 1749 in Charleston, S. C.

WE ARE JUST AS EAGER

To give Danville a first-rate Street Car system as any Councilman or other citizen is to have us do so.

We would not ask to be allowed to use one-man cars during the non-rush hours if we did not believe they would be satisfactory to the great majority of our patrons.

Give us a chance to be the kind of Street Car Company that we want to be. We want your co-operation and confidence and we pledge our good faith not to abuse it but to use it to Danville's advantage.

Danville Traction & Power Co.

O. G. Holland, Pres.

Jas. I. Pritchett, Vice Pres.

Chas. C. Johnson, Gen. Mgr.

Crank Letters by Thousand Swamp League Secretary

(By The Associated Press.)

GENEVA, Nov. 2.—The general office of the League of Nations received today an enormous number of letters from pretty well all over the world, and in these contributions the crank is well represented. The mail clerks are busy individuals, for there is the duty of sorting and selecting. Countless outside the League produce the largest number of correspondents. The United States is far in the lead, and the cranks in America who feel called upon to tell the League what it should do are seemingly without number.

But Germany and Soviet Russia also aid generously in keeping the mail clerks occupied. Africans and Asiatics, as well as Europeans and Americans, find the most extraordinary excuses for communicating with the League, showing there is a world-wide misconception as to what the League is and what it was set up to do.

The Secretariat gets a vast amount of mail matter that ought to go to the foreign offices of different governments, and it receives also of greater number of suggestions, applications and petitions that ought to go nowhere. Men and women bring to the League their heartaches, their headaches, and the aching voice in their pocket books. The secretariat is asked for the addresses of reliable doctors; begged to find lost husbands, and appealed to settle domestic as well as other quarrels. The requests for funds come along in a steady stream. The League has never even been mentioned by the beggars of the confidence men, several Americans of this species having tried to use the secretariat to help them out with their passport troubles.

Among the most frequent appeals are these: that the League makes the world bony dry, that it suppresses tobacco as well as all drugs and drinks; that it institute a universal religion; that it reform the calendar; that it adopt a universal language; and that it give votes to women the world over.

The suggestions are mostly for the cure of the world's economic and financial ills, but some correspondents want to show the League how universal peace can be achieved. They want the general adoption of their particular religion, want to design a new world flag, or make the League all over again after their fashion.

The League is often asked to settle strikes and to pacify divided families. The latest curious demand was from a romance who wanted material to write an exciting novel about the league; he was referred to the League; he was referred to the Near-East section.

Prince Picks Historic Spot For Hunting

(By The Associated Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—When the Prince of Wales took up his residence at Eastern Green, the country estate which he has leased for the hunting season, he was followed by scores of persons who had succeeded in renting other property in the vicinity. The announcement that the Prince would hunt at Eastern Green was followed by a rush to this lonely section, and houses and estates which have been vacant for years will again be the scenes of house parties and festivities.

Precautions have been taken, however, to allow the Prince as much privacy as possible, and the general public will be excluded from the estate. So far no invitations have been accepted by the Prince, and he will try as much as possible to be alone during his visit to the north.

Eastern Green is just outside the old Roman "White Walls," and near the estate stands the famous abbey of Malmesbury, where the first organ built in England was erected, and the first man to make a flying machine lived as a monk.

Investigate Action Of Tobacco Dealers

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Punishment of retail tobacco dealers who produced a retail price cut was the demand of the Wholesale Tobacco Dealers' association of Philadelphia, was alleged against that organization by the government today in the continuation of the federal trade commission's inquiry into the American Tobacco company and P. Lorillard company were hindering and suppressing competition.

After the association fixed a set of prices, the government charged, it was the duty of the dealer to sell at those prices and those who reduced were refused new stocks by the tobacco companies. New supplies were withheld, the government contended, until the price list was complied with by the dealer.

George W. Hill, vice-president of the American Tobacco company, admitted wiring a circular quoting the prices circulated by his company, and explained that there were two classes of dealers detrimental to the tobacco business. One, he said, was the small dealer who holds stock so long that it becomes stale and the other is the tobaccoist who cuts rates to induce customers in his store, demoralizing prices.

President Sees Way To Avoid Big Deficit

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—President Harding believes the threatened deficit of something more than $600,000,000 in the Federal Treasury can be avoided. It was announced today in the White House that in his opinion the government is succeeding so satisfactorily in drying down expenses that the margin between income and outlay will be increased.

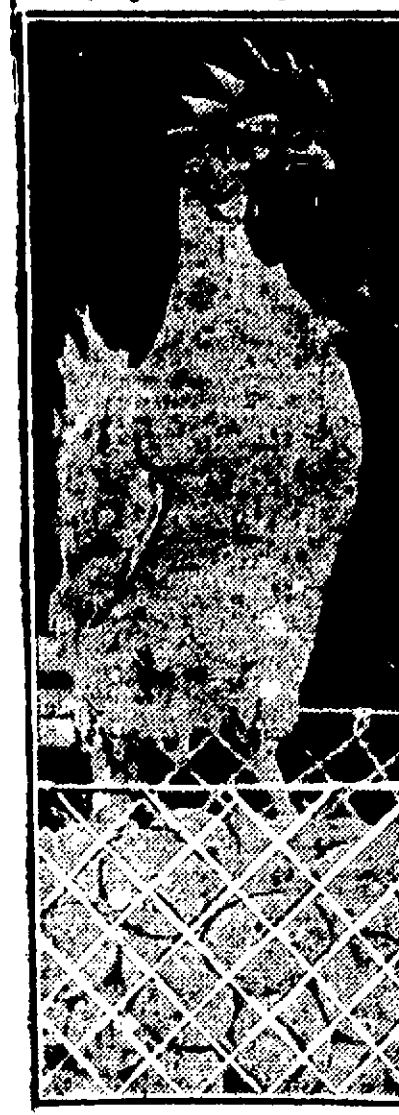

At the same time it was made clear that Mr. Harding will be very reluctant to recommend legislation for new taxes unless the financial situation absolutely demands it. Much satisfaction was expressed at the White House with the present activity of the Budget Bureau, which is preparing estimates for the 1924 appropriations. The bureau is making what are described as the most gratifying diminutions in the budget.

This is being done, it was said, despite the limitation within which the bureau must work. Such items as pensions and interest on the public debt are fixed sums and cannot be slashed. In other places the trimming is going on to such an extent the president is greatly pleased.

AMERICANS BEST PATRONS OF ENGLISH AIR ROUTES

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Air travel between the Continent and England is growing in popularity. In July 1921 machines were in actual service and carried 1,587 passengers, a majority of whom were Americans.

Barneyard Queen

By laying 224 eggs in 365 days, "Columbia Belle," prize leghorn, broke all world's records and won the egg-laying contest held by the California Farm Bureau.

TICKER TALK

Courtesy of Thomson & McKinnon

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Bank of England rate unchanged at 3 per cent.

Government to withdraw $5,000,000 from member banks in this district today.

Chancellor of Exchequer Stanley Baldwin says his first duty will be to settle British debt to U. S.

Mexico City despatch says Mexican Congress is inquiring into granting of executive drilling permits in Juan Felipe to Mexican Petro.

Up to close of business Oct. 31, there had been turned in for exchange into Pan American "B" stock 27,948 shares in Mex. Pete common and 1600 preferred.

Shell Union Oil Corporation will retire on May 1, next at par $100,000,000 preferred stock of Central Petro. Co., which is held by Bankers Trust Co.

Bradstreet's reports 1,600 failures in U. S. in Oct. against 1,469 in Sept. and 1,809 in Oct. 1921.

Woodrow Wilson Now Apparently In Better Health

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1.—Woodrow Wilson, according to people who saw him out driving Sunday afternoon, is looking better than he has in any time since his long illness began. Observers were impressed by his good color. Instead of pallor, red gloved in his cheeks. He seemed to have better command of his arms and hands, judging by the manner in which he lifted his hat in acknowledgment of greetings.

It was also a matter of comment that the war president sat on the front seat with the chauffeur, whereas he has customarily been occupying the rear seat. It may be, however, that the shift to the front seat was made in order to get some measure of protection from the wind which the clouds afford.

Nearly always there is a group of people about the Wilson home, at 3340 S street. The ex-president's telephone is not listed in the directory. So far as possible he has withdrawn from public life and the omission of the phone number is but a part of the systematic effort to relieve him of all sources of bother.

STOCK MARKET

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Stock prices were pushed up in rapid fashion at the opening of the stock market today, buying embracing a wide list of standard shares and specialties. Standard and Mexican Oil, showed some hesitancy first but later began finding with the rest of the list. Belief that the recent reaction had run its course brought a flood of overnight buying orders into the market.

Persistence

Twenty years ago, Jerome T. Schermerhorn, married Elizabeth Morris of Philadelphia. They were divorced in 1911, remarried in 1917, and divorced again in 1919. Now T. is sailing for Europe to marry his former wife for the third time.

Interest Turns On Appointment to U.S. Supreme Court

Heroic Statue of Roosevelt to Be Unveiled Nov. 11

(By The Associated Press.)

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 2.—Theodore Roosevelt, Rough Rider, is the inscription on a heroic equestrian statue of the former president, to be unveiled here Armistice Day with ceremonies in which thousands of persons are to participate.

The statue, by A. Phimister Proctor, was presented to the city of Portland by Dr. Henry Waldo Coe, of life-long friend of Theodore Roosevelt, and it is to be dedicated to the children of America. Approximately 25,000 school children of the city are to take a prominent part of the exercises. The morning program is to be devoted to the children's part of the exercises, with a parade, each child dropping a rose, Portland's emblem, at the foot of the statue.

There will be a military parade in the afternoon, with the regular army, the navy, the marines, Oregon National Guard, the Oregon Army of the Republic, Spanish-American war veterans, American Legion, Boy Scouts and Sons of the American Revolution represented. Counties of Oregon and other states are to be represented by committees.

Dedatory ceremonies will be held at the unveiling, and a message from President Warren G. Harding is to be read.

The statue is located in a park square near the heart of the city. The bronze figure stands more than 13 feet in height, placed on a pedestal eight feet high.

The Roosevelt family has taken keen interest in the work of Proctor, the sculptor, and Mrs. Roosevelt, the sculptress, in the clothing and accoutrements, including the side arms which were worn by Colonel Roosevelt in the battle of San Juan hill. The army weight as Col. Roosevelt at the time he was a rough rider, a long shotgun for a suitable horse, one was found at Palo Alto, owned by a girl student at Stanford University, and upon this horse, dressed as Roosevelt, the soldier posed daily for many months. Memoranda of the family have been pronounced their approval of the work of art.

Marion Again in Limelight

(By The Associated Press.)

MARION, Ohio, Nov. 2.—This little city, home of President Harding, is again in the second time by Miss Anita Pollitzer, of Charleston, S. C., secretary of the National Woman's party. Miss Pollitzer's first visit was on the day when President Harding was notified of his nomination, and she was accompanied by Maurice Paul, vice-president of the party.

At that time Miss Pollitzer came here to ask Mr. Harding to use his influence to swing Tennessee for ratification of the suffrage amendment. A brief business session was presided over by the new equal rights program of the party, which since was reorganized as a permanent body.

Marion has contributed many active workers for the party. Miss Pollitzer, in Washington, said Miss Pollitzer, "Among those leading in our councils and ardently devoted to our cause is Dr. Mildred Dickerson, formerly of Marion, now a dentist in Washington."

President Harding himself has given no opinion lately on equal rights legislation, perhaps because the matter is not yet before Congress. However, in the beginning of our present campaign, then a large delegation of the Woman's party called at the White House, he said to the ladies that he desired as did they the fulfillment of the suffrage amendment and the giving to them of their rights as citizens.

Buffalo Ex-Senator Guilty In $150,000 Thefts From City

BUFFALO, Nov. 1.—John F. Malone, former U. S. Senator and former City Commissioner, was found guilty of larceny today in connection with misappropriation of Park Department funds.

Three members of the former Commissioner's staff, who previously had entered pleas of guilty. The total thefts were estimated at $150,000. Sentences were deferred.

The specific charge against Malone was that he accepted from a sports goods dealer $500 drawn from the city's vouchers for goods that had not been delivered. It was testified that clothing, coal and groceries were delivered to Malone and paid for by the false voucher system. Frederick C. Kull, department auditor, admitted taking $2,000 by fraudulent vouchers and said an equal amount went to Malone.

Buys Wife for $5,000; $500 Down—Payments

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Ruth Schermerhorn, twenty-three years old, who recently offered to sell herself to any man for $5,000 that she might obtain expert medical treatment for her nerve centres, paralyzed when her husband shot her three years ago, has accepted an offer from a Chicago bank employee, she announced today.

The Chicagoan, who, she says, is George Rogers, forty, has offered $5,000 to her and gives her a year to regain her strength before being married to him.

Mrs. Schermerhorn expects a first check within a few days, others at regular intervals.

ONLY THE BEST FOR JAP ARMY

TOKYO, Nov. 2.—The tradition in the army will enable the recruiting sergeants to choose when this year's conscripts come before them for examination and only men who heretofore have been classed "A" physically will be taken for the army. The training will be more intensive for the same amount of work will be done in 22 months. General Yamashita, minister of war, replying to the agitation for a reduction of the period to 15 months said it was an adoption of the office will have to abolish all holidays, including Sundays. At present the recruits have many days off, including occasional fortnights to assist their parents in their business.

If Harding Names Shields It Will Be Taken as Sign of Invasion of Solid South.

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of Danville Bee.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2.—If President Harding appoints Senator John K. Shields, of Tennessee, to the Supreme Court to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge Day, some Democrats will interpret the appointment as vindication of their belief that the Republicans have determined to concentrate on Tennessee and Oklahoma as wedges to break the solid South.

These observers of the political signs say the Republicans have definitely abandoned hope of making headway in Virginia, where they have succeeded in holding one Congress seat, and no more, and where they haven't the ghost of a chance at the governorship or a senatorship. The latest effort to elect Henry W. Anderson, was taken as conclusive of the question.

Tennessee and Oklahoma hold more promise, however, even Democrats admit the fact, and even if they didn't the figures would speak for themselves.

Tennessee has five Republicans in the House, as many as the Democrats have. One of her senators, Shields, is out of sympathy with much that the Democratic label. He antagonized the Wilson policies and the League of Nations.

Oklahoma has one Democratic senator and one Republican senator, Harrell, and five of her eight representatives are Republicans. On the showing in the present Congress, Oklahoma is more Republican than it is Democratic.

It is true these results are largely the result of the wide swing of the country to the Republican party two years ago, but even at the time cannot be denied that the two states rose away from ancient moorings and would seem to offer prospects for permanent occupation if the enemy effort is concentrated and persisted in.

Senator Shields is past 60, the age limit the president himself set for appointees to the Supreme court unless exceptional considerations became a factor. The belief is strong in Democratic circles that the president will appoint a Southern Democrat to the vacancy, and Senator Shields is regarded as the best bet.

Dr. George R. Brown Elected President

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

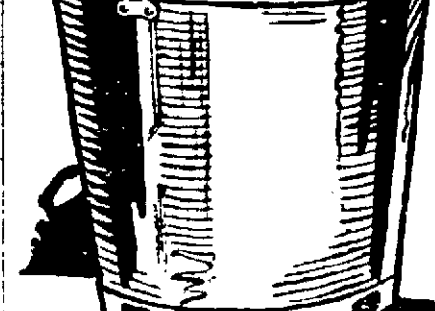

HIGH POINT, N. C., Nov. 2.—The Methodist Episcopal conference of the day at the forenoon session was the second day of the North Carolina Methodist Protestant conference here. Devotional exercises were conducted by Dr. George R. Brown, of High Point. A brief business session was presided over by the retiring president, Dr. A. J. Andrews, of Greensboro. Dr. Geo. Brown, who was elected president of the conference yesterday is expected to preside over remainder of the conference. All other officers were re-elected. Addresses by general agents of the Methodist Protestant denomination in the United States will be heard this afternoon and tonight, returning messengers from the Maryland and Alabama conferences will be heard.

Calls Europe Soviet Hotbed

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—France soon will be the eastern boundary of civilization, according to Louis Joseph Vance, novelist, just back from two years of study in Europe.

All Europe, he predicts, with the exception of England and France, will turn to Bolshevism or a dilution of it within two years.

"Conditions are so bad they are willing to try anything, even Bolshevism, to survive the cold and hunger," he declared. "Vienna shops are filled with beautiful things but they are only for the tourists. There is no coal and little food."

GET MORE MILK MONEY

FEED 200 pounds of Larro-feed to any one cow, then if your own figures do not show that she gave more milk on Larro-feed, return your empty sacks and unused Larro-feed and get every cent of your money back.

The Larro-feed Guarantee, makes it plain to you that Larro-feed must make more milk or we could not afford to carry out such a strong guarantee.

Larro-feed is Cheapest at Higher Cost

"I am using Larro-feed now and I know there is no feed to equal the Larro. I have tried all kinds and will say that it is the best, it is the cheapest, as it is all pure, wholesome, clean feed, and a great milk producer."

MRS. GEO. M. BISHOP, Jacksonville, Fla.

Larro-feed

For Sale and Guaranteed by

J. I. Pritchett & Son

Sarah Knox Is To Be Teacher

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 1.—Miss Sarah Knox, erstwhile Johns-Hopkins graduate nurse, is to become teacher of the women's class in the department of education at the Virginia state penitentiary, according to an announcement which has been made in the Beacon, the official organ of the penitentiary in the edition just issued. Miss Knox has completed six months of the twenty-year sentence given her by the jury of the circuit court of Westmoreland county, which found her guilty of the murder of Mrs. Margaret Eastlake at Colonial Beach.

She has been confined to the garments department of the state penitentiary, but the fact that she is equipped with an education far superior to that possessed by most of the inmates has caused her to be elected as a teacher, it is believed.

Superintendent J. J. J. of the penitentiary today said that he could not confirm the publication in the Beacon regarding Miss Knox, because he has been out of the city for several days, and therefore is not acquainted with the facts of the case. He expressed some doubt as to the probability that she would be given the position of teacher in the women's department.

The educational work of the penitentiary is being carried on under the direction of Supervisor S. M. Hull. As published in this paper several months ago, a daily school has been established and all inmates of the penitentiary who have the equivalent of a high school education are compelled to attend the school.

Ex-Kaiser To Take No Wedding Trip

LONDON, Nov. 1.—There is to be no wedding trip for the former Kaiser. The same ban that forbade his leaving Doorn on the occasion of the former Kaiser's funeral holds strictly upon the occasion of his marrying the Princess Hermine.

Naturally the groom-to-be would like a change of scenery upon the occasion of his wedding. The British government, however, never would consent; the French government takes a similar attitude and the Dutch government is bound to respect their wishes.

Husband No. 3 Shoots 'Wife' in Wedding Row

NEWPORT, Ky., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Edna Schmidt, twenty-nine, was shot and seriously injured by her husband, Harry twenty-three, in a rooming house here late last night. The woman, it was said today, probably will recover. The bullet passed through her body near the heart.

The shooting took place in an argument said by the husband to have been precipitated when he requested the woman, who, he says, married him when she had two husbands from whom she was not divorced, to marry him again and give their child a name.

The couple were married, said the husband, after his discharge from the Government Hospital at Fort McHenry, where he had been a gas patient. He said he did not know she had been married before until last April. Then he learned she had had two other husbands, and was not divorced from either.

Schmidt said he then left home, returning two months ago when he learned his wife had divorced her two previous husbands.

RED PIMPLES ON FACE AND ARMS

Itched and Burned Badly. Cuticura Healed.

"My face and arms were affected with hard, red pimples. They feasted and scaled over, and itched and burned so badly that I could not rest at night. My clothing aggravated the itching and the breaking out on my arms, and my face was disfigured."

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after a couple of days could see an improvement. I continued using them, and in two weeks was healed." (Signed) Joseph J. Mesineo, Co. F, 9th Inf., Camp Travis, San Antonio, Texas.

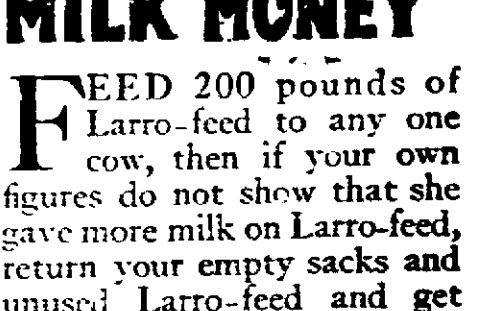

Use Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for all toilet purposes.

Sample Soap Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. 500, Portland, Me. Sold every where. 50¢ per box. Ointment 25¢ per tin. Talcum 50¢ per tin. Cuticura Soap shaves without soap."

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—France soon will be the eastern boundary of civilization, according to Louis Joseph Vance, novelist, just back from two years of study in Europe.

All Europe, he predicts, with the exception of England and France, will turn to Bolshevism or a dilution of it within two years.

"Conditions are so bad they are willing to try anything, even Bolshevism, to survive the cold and hunger," he declared. "Vienna shops are filled with beautiful things but they are only for the tourists. There is no coal and little food."

GET MORE MILK MONEY

FEED 200 pounds of Larro-feed to any one cow, then if your own figures do not show that she gave more milk on Larro-feed, return your empty sacks and unused Larro-feed and get every cent of your money back.

The Larro-feed Guarantee, makes it plain to you that Larro-feed must make more milk or we could not afford to carry out such a strong guarantee.

Larro-feed is Cheapest at Higher Cost

"I am using Larro-feed now and I know there is no feed to equal the Larro. I have tried all kinds and will say that it is the best, it is the cheapest, as it is all pure, wholesome, clean feed, and a great milk producer."

MRS. GEO. M. BISHOP, Jacksonville, Fla.

Larro-feed

For Sale and Guaranteed by

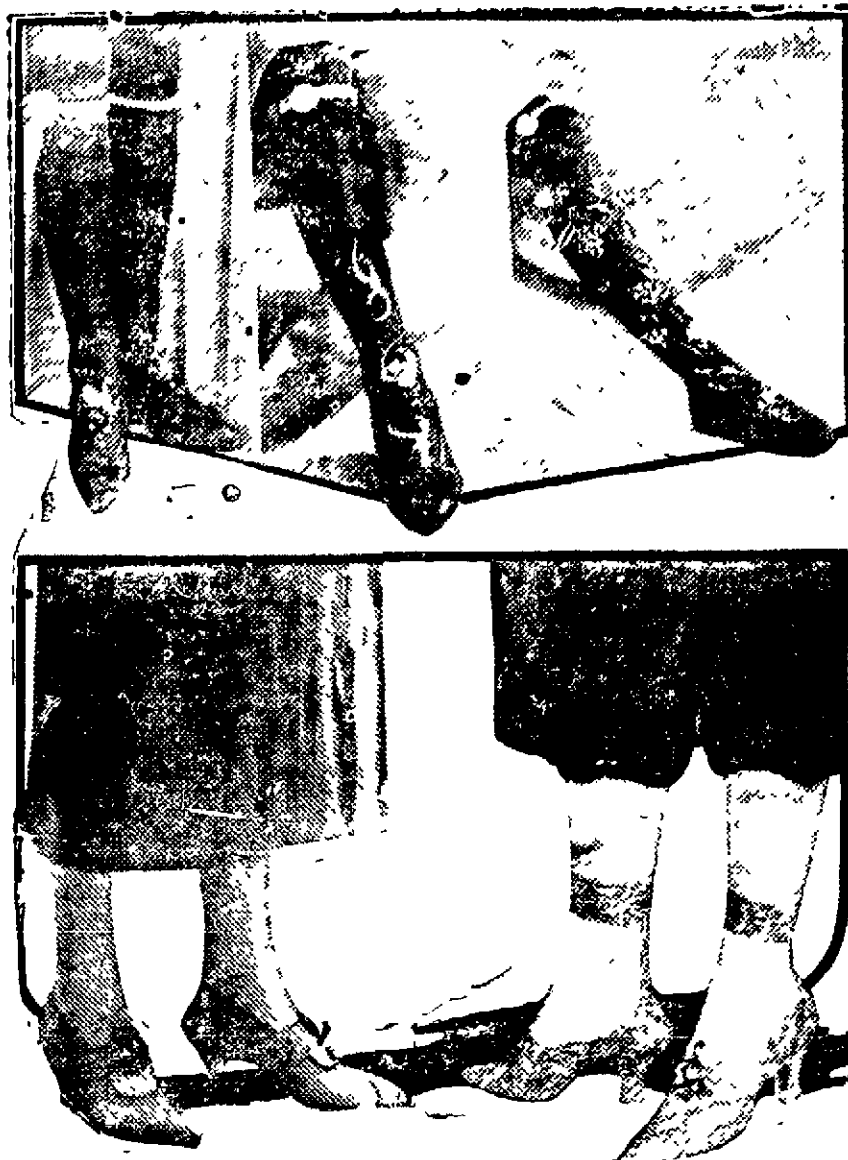

J. I. Pritchett & Son

FROM TOP TO TOE IN MILADY'S MODES

Practical and Pretty

What Paris Sends Us

Paisley

Fascinating Negligee

To Please

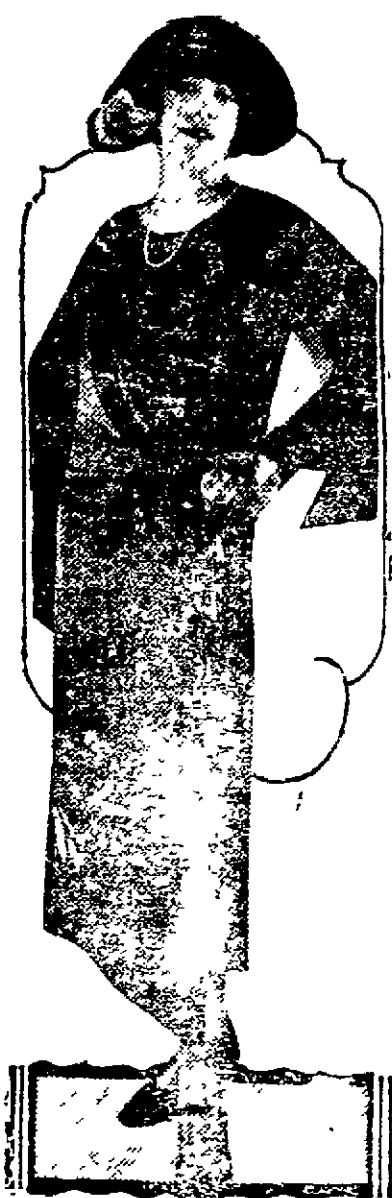

Graceful

Lines Of Loveliness

Distinctive

Blue and Gray Cape

Both Styles Popular

New Paris Gowns

Sure Way To Charm

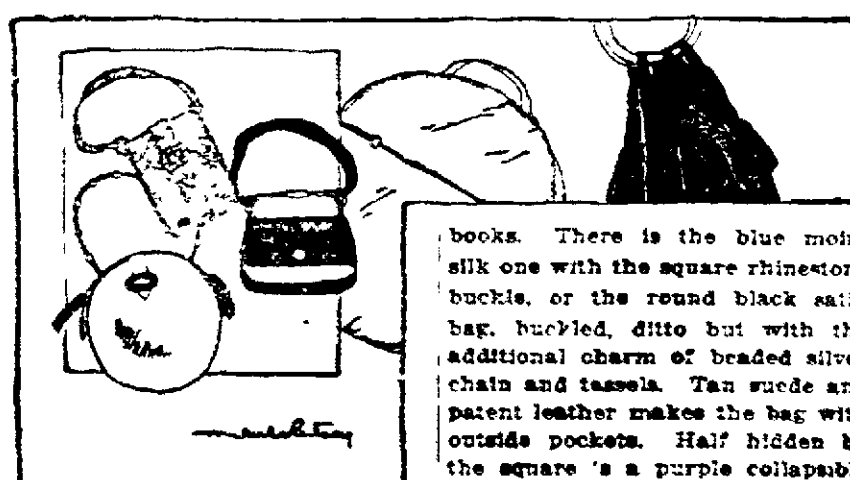

For Evening

New Blouse and Skirt

In the Line of Accessories

THE NEW YORK GOVERNORSHIP.

The governorship fight in New York has become so engrossing as to attract attention in all sections of the country. The novelty about the campaign is that both candidates, Nathan Miller, present governor seeking reelection and former Governor "Al" Smith are both men above reproach and men who, having been tried in the scales of public opinion have not been found wanting. That is something quite new for New York. There is a complete absence of the usual sort of hue and cry. Neither Smith nor Miller have been denigrated by any "interest," and while Tammany favors Smith, the former governor is not bound to it by those subterranean lines which crop up so often in political fights. Both candidates are strictly independent and are carrying favor with no special group or faction. This puts the governorship fight on an exceptionally high plane. Analysts who are seeking to dissect the characters of the two men find Smith with a leaning towards personal rights and liberties, while Miller is a man of probable broader culture and education. As a more ardent votary of the responsibilities of the governorship and duties to State's rights. The fight is a warm one with the odds slightly favoring Miller at the present time.

Smith became a candidate under pressure, and agreed to run against his personal wishes. His personal business—a trucking concern—has him far more than the governorship, and he consented to run principally because it was representative to him that he alone could, in the Albany convention, overcome the menace of William Randolph Hearst's supported out and out by the Murphy campaign. Smith, backed by the Democratic machine, met Charles B. Nordhoff, globe-trotter, met Brown. The ex-grocery clerk wishes he were back at his old job in Dubuque.

He says the popular songs and travel books are right about splendid weather and fascinating maidens of the South Seas, but they forget to mention that there's almost nothing available for the newcomer to eat.

Brown found plenty of coconuts. It was a hard job husking them and getting the meat out, and he became so satiated on coconut that he could hardly bear the sight of one. But it was better than starving. Presently along came four white men.

"Look here!" they demanded. "What do you mean, building a shack on our property? And what right have you to steal our coconuts? Don't you know that we sell the dried coconut meat? We're copra dealers."

So Brown moved along into the jungle and began living on bananas. Indiana, after announcing that he was on their property, chased him away as the tips of their spears.

Alfred Brown found that everything worth while in the South Seas islands has been stalked out by game warden first. The lingering tourist is a trespasser.

Making a living is a world-wide problem that cannot be escaped by flight. Tired of the cities, or the farm, in the jungle, in the frozen North, on tropical islands.

Most of us imagine that somewhere, if we could just find it, there is a place where we could live in a hammock and pluck our living from the trees. Deep in our hearts, we know that we are kidding ourselves. Of course, one has to have delusions to lure him on to greater effort.

And most of us like Brown in the South Seas, find that nearly everything worth while is stalked out before we get there—usually several generations back. Air is about the only thing that is really free.

NEXT TUESDAY'S IMPORTANT OBLIGATION

(The Danville Register.)
Next Tuesday will be election day. In every congressional district (save those in Maine), a representative is to be elected, and in thirty-four States, U. S. senators are to be elected. The city of Danville, the counties of Charlotte, Halifax, Pittsylvania, Franklin, Henry, Patrick, Carroll and Grayson composing the Fifth district will be called upon to make a choice between Hon. J. M. Hooker, Democratic incumbent, and Dr. C. P. Smith, Republican contesting for the honor.

In this city and throughout the whole State the voters will be called upon to choose between Senator Claude A. Swanson, Democratic incumbent, and J. H. Hassinger, Republican aspirant. In Maryland, West Virginia, Ohio, Georgia and various other States senators are to be elected.

We are emphasizing these elections and their importance in the hope of arousing the voters of this city, county and district especially to the wisdom and the duty of taking nothing for granted, but of going to the polls and voting next Tuesday, November 7th. Every voter who participated in the Democratic primary last August is thereby in honor bound to vote for the nominees of the party, for senator and representative. They may not excuse themselves by assuming that the nominee is "going to be elected anyhow." In the Fifth district, particularly, a congressional election is always a genuine fight for the honor because the normal political division of the population of the district is so close, that negligence or apathy on the part of the Democrats, who are in the majority, may easily cause the election of a Republican.

In our judgement it would be a serious injury to the interests of the district and of the country, not to say an actual calamity, should the Fifth district return a Republican as its representative. Mr. Hooker by his efficiency, fidelity and painstaking attention to the wishes and interests of his constituents deserves a handsome reelection. Such a result will be assured if the qualified Democratic voters of the district will take the small trouble to fulfill their obligations by going to their respective polling-places next Tuesday and voting for Mr. Hooker, for Senator Swanson and for Mr. Talbot, the last named as superintendent of public utilities.

When Lannis rode up on the opposite side of the brook, he called across to Wier:

"You haven't seen anything of any crooked outfit around here, have you, Ralph? I'm looking for that kind."

"See here," said the superintendent, "I don't know but George Fry may have seen one of your guys. Come over and he'll tell you what happened an hour ago."

Fry's boyish face seemed agitated; he looked up at the State Trooper with the flush of tears in his gaze and pointed at the rifle Lannis carried.

"If I had that," he said excitedly, "I'd have brought in a crook, you bet."

"Where did you see him?" inquired Lannis.

"Just west of the Scur, about an hour and a half ago. I was stockin' the head of Scur Brook with fingerlings. . . . You know how it is in the woods. . . . I kinda felt somebody near. Apd, by cracky! there stood a man with a big, black automatic pistol, and he had a bead on my belly."

"Well," said I, "what's troubling you and your gun, my friend?—I was that astonished."

"He was a slim-built, powerful guy with a foreign face and voice and way. He wanted to know if he had the honor—as he put it—to introduce himself to a detective or sending out from New Jersey and he wanted to fill it out. It went over his head, but he made a brave stab at the thing with the following result:

1. Name? Andrew Jackson Spivey.
2. Age? Over 21.
3. Occupation? Colored.
4. Do you want a husband or wife? I prefer a single woman with impu-

5. Residence? Sometimes here and sometimes on Pelham avenue.
6. Complexion? Yes.
7. Where born? In the A. M. E. Hospital.
8. Religion? Yes, I got that, too.
9. Condition of health? Pretty fair if I stays off my feet. The old dogs ain't so good.

10. Ambitions? A couple of good bones and three square a day.
11. Have you ever been married? You'd a thought so if you had seen her. Some wife, yessah!

12. Who received the divorce decree? We didn't have a decree. I had a decision. I won that in a foul go.
13. On what grounds was the divorce granted? Got house.
14. How far advanced are you from an educational standpoint? (Silence).
15. What pleasures suit you best? Galloping horses or maybe a good roast ham with little gravy.

16. What are your special talents? Sevensing.
17. Do you insist that your mate come from some community you live in? No. I ain't never in no community that is worth insistering on.
18. Give two good references, Britannium and Hoyle's Rules.
19. Do you prefer a heavy or a light-weight mate? Yes, one or the other.

Frank Kock says if people put the same concentration in their work that they do in their work, their success is assured.

Joey Doolittle says the man who is a living, but we've got to be good collectors in getting it.

Waitress—"And how did you find the apple pie, sir?"
Diner—"I moved the bit of cheese so do and there it was."

Something not to worry about: Why a bald hair makes it so a jealous wife can find long hairs on her husband's coat.

Mable, Auntie, will the leaves come down the trees again?
Auntie, dear, in the spring

There men kept their automobiles in separate garages, X, Y and Z (see Fig.) In order to reach the gate each one desired, the driveway crossed as shown in the diagram. One night an accident occurred at the crossing. The garage owners decided to eliminate all crossings, but each one still wanted to use the same gate. How did they rearrange the driveways so there would be no crossings?

The motorcycle rider left his machine, picked up the fallen signpost, replaced it in position and turned it so that the proper arm pointed toward the street from which he had just come. Then, of course, the other arms were correctly pointed.

The FLAMING JEWELS

by ROBERT W. CHAMBERS
© 1922 GEORGE M. DOZAN COMPANY

(Continued From Our Last Issue)

Episode Ten

The Twilight of Mike

CHAPTER I

WHEN Quintana turned like an enraged snake on Sard and drove him to his destruction, he would have killed and robbed the frightened diamond broker had he dared risk the shot. He had intended to do this anyway, sooner or later. But with the noise of the hunting dogs filling the forest, Quintana was afraid to fire.

About an hour later Quintana was seen, challenged, chased and shot at by State Trooper Lannis.

Quintana ran. And what with the dense growth of seedling birch and ash and the falling birch and poplar leaves, Lannis lost Quintana and then his trail.

The State Trooper had left his horse at the cross-roads near the scene of Darragh's masked exploit, where he had stopped and robbed Sard—and now Lannis hastened back to find and mount his horse, and gallop straight into the first growth timber.

There was no sound of dogs when Lannis rode in on the narrow, spotted trail whence he had flushed Quintana into the forest. The growth of seedling birch bordered it.

Once, very, very far away westward in the direction of Star Pond he fancied he heard a faint vibration in the air that might have been hounds baying.

He was right. And at that very moment Sard was dying, horribly, among two trapped otters as big and fierce as the dogs that had driven them into the drain.

Somewhere among the birches, between him and Star Pond, was Harrod Place. And the idea occurred to him that Quintana might have ventured to ask food and shelter there. Yet, that was not likely because Trooper Stormont had called him that morning on the telephone from the Hatchery Lodge.

However, to reassure himself, Lannis rode as far as Harrod Place, and found game wardens on duty along the line.

Then he turned west and trotted his mount down to the hatchery, where he saw Ralph Wier, the superintendent, standing outside the lodge talking to his assistant, George Fry.

When Lannis rode up on the opposite side of the brook, he called across to Wier:

"You haven't seen anything of any crooked outfit around here, have you, Ralph? I'm looking for that kind."

"See here," said the superintendent, "I don't know but George Fry may have seen one of your guys. Come over and he'll tell you what happened an hour ago."

Fry's boyish face seemed agitated; he looked up at the State Trooper with the flush of tears in his gaze and pointed at the rifle Lannis carried.

"If I had that," he said excitedly, "I'd have brought in a crook, you bet."

"Where did you see him?" inquired Lannis.

"Just west of the Scur, about an hour and a half ago. I was stockin' the head of Scur Brook with fingerlings. . . . You know how it is in the woods. . . . I kinda felt somebody near. Apd, by cracky! there stood a man with a big, black automatic pistol, and he had a bead on my belly."

"Well," said I, "what's troubling you and your gun, my friend?—I was that astonished."

"He was a slim-built, powerful guy with a foreign face and voice and way. He wanted to know if he had the honor—as he put it—to introduce himself to a detective or

Wier turned instantly and came to the partly open door. "I want to know," she said, "where I am."

"What is this place?" "It's a hatchery—" "Whose?" "Ma'am?" "Whose lodge is this? Does it belong to Harrod Place?" "We're h-hootch runners, Miss—" stammered Wier, mindful of instructions, but making a poor business of deception; "—I and Hal Smith, we run a 'Easy One,' and we strip trout for a blind and sell to Harrod Place—Hal and I—" "Who is Hal Smith?" she asked. "Ma'am?"

The girl's flower-blue eyes turned to Wier. "Who is the man who calls himself Hal Smith?" she repeated. Wier looked at her, red and dumb. "Is he a Trooper in plain clothes?" she demanded in a bitter voice. "Is he one of the Commissioner's spies? Are you one, too?"

Wier gazed miserably at her, unable to formulate a convincing lie. She flushed swiftly as a terrible suspicion seized her. "Is this Harrod property? Is Hal Smith old Harrod's heir? Is he?" "My God, Miss—" "Listen, Miss—" She flung open the door and came out into the living-room.

"Hal Smith is that nephew of old Harrod," she said calmly. "His name is Darragh. And you are one of his wardens. . . . And I can't stay here. Do you understand?" Wier wiped his hot face and waited. The cat was out; there was a hole in the bag; and he knew there was no use in such lies as he could tell.

He said: "All I know, Miss, is that I was to look after you and get you whatever you want—" "I want my clothes—" "Ma'am?" "My clothes?" she repeated impatiently. "I've got to have them." "Where are they, ma'am?" asked the bewildered man.

At the same moment the girl's eyes fell on a pile of men's sporting clothing—garments sent down from Harrod Place to the lodge—lying on a leather lounge near a gun-rack. Without a glance at Wier, Eve went to the heap of clothing, tossed it about, selected cords, two pairs of woolen socks, gray shirt, puttees, shoes, flung the garments through the door into her own room, followed them, and locked herself in.

When she was dressed—the two heavy pairs of socks helping to fit her feet to the shoes—she emptied her handful of diamonds, sapphires and emeralds, including the Flaming Jewel, into the pockets of her breeches.

Now she was ready. She unlocked her door and went out, scarcely lumping at all now.

Wier gazed at her helplessly as she coolly chose a rifle and cartridge belt at the gun-rack.

Then she turned on him as still and dangerous as a young puma: "Tell Darragh he'd better keep clear of Clinch's," she said. "Tell him I always thought he was a rat. Now I know he's one."

She plunged one slim hand into her pocket and drew out a diamond. "Here," she said insolently. "This will pay your gentleman for his gun and clothing."

Wier said to Fry: "Go up to Harrod Place and tell Jansen your story and bring back two 45-70's. . . . And quit sniveling. . . . You may get a shot at him yet."

Behind the curtains of her open window Eve Strayer, lying on her bed, had heard every word.

Crouched there beside her pillow she stared out and saw Trooper Lannis ride away; saw the Fry boy start toward Harrod Place on a run; saw Ralph Wier watch them out of sight and then turn and re-enter the lodge.

Wrapped in Darragh's big blanket robe she got off the bed and opened her chamber door as Wier was passing through the living-room.

"Please—I'd like to speak to you a moment," she called.

"THIS WILL PAY YOUR GENTLEMAN FOR HIS GUN AND CLOTHING."

Trooper impatiently. "Tell your story and quit thinking how you were misused."

"I'd like to stay in the shanty for an hour or he'd do for me good," cried Fry. . . . "Once I got up and went to the door; and there he stood by the brook, wolfing my lunch with both hands. I tell you he cursed and drove me, like a dog, inside with his big pistol—my God—like a dog. . . ."

"Then, the next time I took a chance he was gone. . . . And I beat it here to get me a rifle—" The boy broke down and sobbed: "He drove me around—like a dog—he did."

"You leave that to me," interrupted Lannis sharply. And, to Wier: "You and George had better get a gun apiece. That fellow might come back here or go to Harrod Place if we starve him out."

Wier said to Fry: "Go up to Harrod Place and tell Jansen your story and bring back two 45-70's. . . . And quit sniveling. . . . You may get a shot at him yet."

Behind the curtains of her open window Eve Strayer, lying on her bed, had heard every word.

Crouched there beside her pillow she stared out and saw Trooper Lannis ride away; saw the Fry boy start toward Harrod Place on a run; saw Ralph Wier watch them out of sight and then turn and re-enter the lodge.

Wrapped in Darragh's big blanket robe she got off the bed and opened her chamber door as Wier was passing through the living-room.

"Please—I'd like to speak to you a moment," she called.

"THIS WILL PAY YOUR GENTLEMAN FOR HIS GUN AND CLOTHING."

Trooper impatiently. "Tell your story and quit thinking how you were misused."

"I'd like to stay in the shanty for an hour or he'd do for me good," cried Fry. . . . "Once I got up and went to the door; and there he stood by the brook, wolfing my lunch with both hands. I tell you he cursed and drove me, like a dog, inside with his big pistol—my God—like a dog. . . ."

"Then, the next time I took a chance he was gone. . . . And I beat it here to get me a rifle—" The boy broke down and sobbed: "He drove me around—like a dog—he did."

"You leave that to me," interrupted Lannis sharply. And, to Wier: "You and George had better get a gun apiece. That fellow might come back here or go to Harrod Place if we starve him out."

Wier said to Fry: "Go up to Harrod Place and tell Jansen your story and bring back two 45-70's. . . . And quit sniveling. . . . You may get a shot at him yet."

Behind the curtains of her open window Eve Strayer, lying on her bed, had heard every word.

Crouched there beside her pillow she stared out and saw Trooper Lannis ride away; saw the Fry boy start toward Harrod Place on a run; saw Ralph Wier watch them out of sight and then turn and re-enter the lodge.

Wrapped in Darragh's big blanket robe she got off the bed and opened her chamber door as Wier was passing through the living-room.

"Please—I'd like to speak to you a moment," she called.

"THIS WILL PAY YOUR GENTLEMAN FOR HIS GUN AND CLOTHING."

Trooper impatiently. "Tell your story and quit thinking how you were misused."

"I'd like to stay in the shanty for an hour or he'd do for me good," cried Fry. . . . "Once I got up and went to the door; and there he stood by the brook, wolfing my lunch with both hands. I tell you he cursed and drove me, like a dog, inside with his big pistol—my God—like a dog. . . ."

"Then, the next time I took a chance he was gone. . . . And I beat it here to get me a rifle—" The boy broke down and sobbed: "He drove me around—like a dog—he did."

"You leave that to me," interrupted Lannis sharply. And, to Wier: "You and George had better get a gun apiece. That fellow might come back here or go to Harrod Place if we starve him out."

Wier said to Fry: "Go up to Harrod Place and tell Jansen your story and bring back two 45-70's. . . . And quit sniveling. . . . You may get a shot at him yet."

Behind the curtains of her open window Eve Strayer, lying on her bed, had heard every word.

Crouched there beside her pillow she stared out and saw Trooper Lannis ride away; saw the Fry boy start toward Harrod Place on a run; saw Ralph Wier watch them out of sight and then turn and re-enter the lodge.

Wrapped in Darragh's big blanket robe she got off the bed and opened her chamber door as Wier was passing through the living-room.

"Please—I'd like to speak to you a moment," she called.

"THIS WILL PAY YOUR GENTLEMAN FOR HIS GUN AND CLOTHING."

Trooper impatiently. "Tell your story and quit thinking how you were misused."

"I'd like to stay in the shanty for an hour or he'd do for me good," cried Fry. . . . "Once I got up and went to the door; and there he stood by the brook, wolfing my lunch with both hands. I tell you he cursed and drove me, like a dog, inside with his big pistol—my God—like a dog. . . ."

"Then, the next time I took a chance he was gone. . . . And I beat it here to get me a rifle—" The boy broke down and sobbed: "He drove me around—like a dog—he did."

"You leave that to me," interrupted Lannis sharply. And, to Wier: "You and George had better get a gun apiece. That fellow might come back here or go to Harrod Place if we starve him out."

Wier said to Fry: "Go up to Harrod Place and tell Jansen your story and bring back two 45-70's. . . . And quit sniveling. . . . You may get a shot at him yet."

Behind the curtains of her open window Eve Strayer, lying on her bed, had heard every word.

Crouched there beside her pillow she stared out and saw Trooper Lannis ride away; saw the Fry boy start toward Harrod Place on a run; saw Ralph Wier watch them out of sight and then turn and re-enter the lodge.

Wrapped in Darragh's big blanket robe she got off the bed and opened her chamber door as Wier was passing through the living-room.

"Please—I'd like to speak to you a moment," she called.

"THIS WILL PAY YOUR GENTLEMAN FOR HIS GUN AND CLOTHING."

Trooper impatiently. "Tell your story and quit thinking how you were misused."

"I'd like to stay in the shanty for an hour or he'd do for me good," cried Fry. . . . "Once I got up and went to the door; and there he stood by the brook, wolfing my lunch with both hands. I tell you he cursed and drove me, like a dog, inside with his big pistol—my God—like a dog. . . ."

"Then, the next time I took a chance he was gone. . . . And I beat it here to get me a rifle—" The boy broke down and sobbed: "He drove me around—like a dog—he did."

"You leave that to me," interrupted Lannis sharply. And, to Wier: "You and George had better get a gun apiece. That fellow might come back here or go to Harrod Place if we starve him out."

Wier said to Fry: "Go up to Harrod Place and tell Jansen your story and bring back two 45-70's. . . . And quit sniveling. . . . You may get a shot at him yet."

Behind the curtains of her open window Eve Strayer, lying on her bed, had heard every word.

Crouched there beside her pillow she stared out and saw Trooper Lannis ride away; saw the Fry boy start toward Harrod Place on a run; saw Ralph Wier watch them out of sight and then turn and re-enter the lodge.

Wrapped in Darragh's big blanket robe she got off the bed and opened her chamber door as Wier was passing through the living-room.

"Please—I'd like to speak to you a moment," she called.

"THIS WILL PAY YOUR GENTLEMAN FOR HIS GUN AND CLOTHING."

Trooper impatiently. "Tell your story and quit thinking how you were misused."

"I'd like to stay in the shanty for an hour or he'd do for me good," cried Fry. . . . "Once I got up and went to the door; and there he stood by the brook, wolfing my lunch with both hands. I tell you he cursed and drove me, like a dog, inside with his big pistol—my God—like a dog. . . ."

"Then, the next time I took a chance he was gone. . . . And I beat it here to get me a rifle—" The boy broke down and sobbed: "He drove me around—like a dog—he did."

"You leave that to me," interrupted Lannis sharply. And, to Wier: "You and George had better get a gun apiece. That fellow might come back here or go to Harrod Place if we starve him out."

Wier said to Fry: "Go up to Harrod Place and tell Jansen your story and bring back two 45-70's. . . . And quit sniveling. . . . You may get a shot at him yet."

Behind the curtains of her open window Eve Strayer, lying on her bed, had heard every word.

Crouched there beside her pillow she stared out and saw Trooper Lannis ride away; saw the Fry boy start toward Harrod Place on a run; saw Ralph Wier watch them out of sight and then turn and re-enter the lodge.

Wrapped in Darragh's big blanket robe she got off the bed and opened her chamber door as Wier was passing through the living-room.

"Please—I'd like to speak to you a moment," she called.

"THIS WILL PAY YOUR GENTLEMAN FOR HIS GUN AND CLOTHING."

Trooper impatiently. "Tell your story and quit thinking how you were misused."

"I'd like to stay in the shanty for an hour or he'd do for me good," cried Fry. . . . "Once I got up and went to the door; and there he stood by the brook, wolfing my lunch with both hands. I tell you he cursed and drove me, like a dog, inside with his big pistol—my God—like a dog. . . ."

"Then, the next time I took a chance he was gone. . . . And I beat it here to get me a rifle—" The boy broke down and sobbed: "He drove me around—like a dog—he did."

"You leave that to me," interrupted Lannis sharply. And, to Wier: "You and George had better get a gun apiece. That fellow might come back here or go to Harrod Place if we starve him out."

Wier said to Fry: "Go up to Harrod Place and tell Jansen your story and bring back two 45-70's. . . . And quit sniveling. . . . You may get a shot at him yet."

Behind the curtains of her open window Eve Strayer, lying on her bed, had heard every word.

Crouched there beside her pillow she stared out and saw Trooper Lannis ride away; saw the Fry boy start toward Harrod Place on a run; saw Ralph Wier watch them out of sight and then turn and re-enter the lodge.

Wrapped in Darragh's big blanket robe she got off the bed and opened her chamber door as Wier was passing through the living-room.

"Please—I'd like to speak to you a moment," she called.

"THIS WILL PAY YOUR GENTLEMAN FOR HIS GUN AND CLOTHING."

Trooper impatiently. "Tell your story and quit thinking how you were misused."

"I'd like to stay in the shanty for an hour or he'd do for me good," cried Fry. . . . "Once I got up and went to the door; and there he stood by the brook, wolfing my lunch with both hands. I tell you he cursed and drove me, like a dog, inside with his big pistol—my God—like a dog. . . ."

"Then, the next time I took a chance he was gone. . . . And I beat it here to get me a rifle—" The boy broke down and sobbed: "He drove me around—like a dog—he did."

"You leave that to me," interrupted Lannis sharply. And, to Wier: "You and George had better get a gun apiece. That fellow might come back here or go to Harrod Place if we starve him out."

Wier said to Fry: "Go up to Harrod Place and tell Jansen your story and bring back two 45-70's. . . . And quit sniveling. . . . You may get a shot at him yet."

Walker Defeats Jack Britton Fifteen Rounds

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Mickie Walker of Elizabeth, N. J., became the new middle-weight boxing champion of the world tonight when he received the nod over Jack Britton, the veteran little-holder, in a fifteen round bout in Madison Square Garden. It was one of the most furious contests seen in battle scarred arena.

The champion weighed 145 and the challenger 145. When the men came to the ring it was officially announced on behalf of the New York Boxing Commission that all betting on the outcome should be declared off because of a late switch in the odds. This afternoon the odds were set to five in favor of the champion but an hour before the going rang it had receded to 8 to 5 in favor of Walker. There was a rumor that Britton was not in the best of condition.

Round one: Britton tore in and landed a left to the body following with a light fusillade from both hands. Walker backed to the ropes where he staggered the champion with a right to the chin. Britton recovered, but Walker beat him nearly seven hammering furiously with both hands and then driving the champion to the center of the ring where he continued to hammer away. Coming from a clinch, Britton caught his opponent along the ropes and sent him reeling to the jaw. It was a furious session.

Round two: Britton began the second round carefully planting his left into the challenger's stomach and cleverly getting away, making Walker miss. Britton tripped near Walker's knees and fell to both knees but was up in a flash. Walker caught the champ with a right to the head and as Britton wobbled, Walker followed with his left but the champion steadied and they were clinching at the bell.

Round three: They began the third round cautiously and mixed at close quarters. Walker took the lead, hooking his long left arm in front of him and the champion retreated. Walker, using his left, punched and nudged the champion again clinched. Walker blocked most of Britton's blows and in addition the champ lacked power.

Round four: They began with long distance sparring, but soon Walker planted his left in Britton's stomach and the champ's return was short. Britton staggered Walker with rights to the head and evaded the returns. Britton caught Walker in a neutral corner and pumped both hands to the head and body continuing after the bell rang until stopped by the referee.

Round five: Britton appeared stronger and more sure of himself and took the lead more. He again caught Walker in a corner and landed short uppercuts and an over hand right and knocked Walker to the ropes. Walker missed several swings.

Round six: Britton blocked Walker's onslaught and then began sharp-shooting left hooks and right slams. Walker returned hard lefts to the stomach, a short right to the jaw and a right kidney punch. He rocked the champion with a left to the jaw. Walker then drove Britton across the ring driving both fists to the jaw. The champ reeled about and fell into a clinch. They were exchanging at the bell.

Round seven: Walker shot a left to the jaw and Britton clinched. Walker continually landed his left to the jaw and Britton tried only to block. The champ appeared weaker but the challenger gave him no rest, again caused Britton's knees to sag with a left to the jaw. Britton occasionally landed a blow but Walker continued hammering away.

Round eight: Walker hooked his left to the jaw and Britton retreated. Walker sent his left twice to the stomach, then twice to the jaw and Britton continued to back up. Britton took more lefts to the jaw before lashing out in a return. He made Walker dance with a left to the jaw but the challenger replied with a two handed assault which the champ could not meet.

Round nine: Jack rocked Mickie with a right to the head, then took a volley of body blows. Walker, unaided, turned to the champ's head, with his left and began hooking his right foot frequently. In desperation the champ began sending short right uppercuts but they lacked steam. The champ resumed his attack, sending crushing blows to the kidneys.

Round ten: Walker began hooking both hands to the head, and then to lay back for powerful left swings to the stomach. The champ took a left to the jaw and a series of body blows without a return. With a series of body blows Walker pushed Britton to the ropes near the champ's corner, where he pummeled away until Britton fell to his knees. He was calmly listening to the count when the going rang to the count of "six."

Round eleven: Walker launched in to the attack only to find that Britton was coming back with more vigor than he had shown at any time. Britton returned blow for blow and forced the champ across the ring lambasting the challenger against the ropes. Britton began to burn out and bowed with folded arms before a new assault, but Walker too was tiring from the pace and he did not press the champ.

Round twelve: Both men fought in a tired but dogged fashion. Walker took the lead and rocked Britton with a right crack to the jaw. The champ began to absorb punishment without much resistance and as Walker landed a series of body blows, Britton went to his knees and knelt on the floor until nine was counted. The champ was extremely groggy and only able to hold up his feeble arms. Walker rained both hands to the head, stomach and to the kidneys as the champ leaned over, faltering in his steps but Walker lacked the finishing blow.

Round thirteen: Walker hammered at Britton's chest and stomach, frequently shooting his left to the jaw. Walker seemed tired and the champ laid his weight on his opponent's chest. Walker stepped away and planted his left to chin and right to body, but still the groggy champ kept standing on his wobbly feet. At the round ended Britton caught Walker with a one-two to the jaw and the crowd applauded.

Round fourteen: Walker caught Britton with a left to the jaw and sent his right to the back of the neck and then hooked several lefts to the jaw. Britton tried to clinch continually and reeled and wavered as he backed around the ring. Britton sent both hands to the jaw and Walker replied with both arms full of blows. The jelling champ backed around the ring, looking awkwardly.

Round fifteen: Walker played for the body and then shot with uppercuts to the jaw. He forced Britton to retreat around the ring, but Jack blocked with some effect. Walker staggered Britton with a right behind the ear and a left to the body, but the challenger was too tired to follow his advantages. Britton clinched and backed as though to stave off a knockout. He calmly shook hands with the challenger when the bell sounded.

DREAM FIRM 'BUSTED', VENIZELOS AND ZAHAROFF LOSE OUT

BY MILTON BRONNER

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Venizelos & Zaharoff, Wholesale Merchants of Damascus, are broke. The firm is "busted." All their dreams are dissolved.

Venizelos, a bitterly disappointed man, is grieving his heart out. Zaharoff, an older man and more cynical, is smiling at his own credulity and is resuming his rich, soft life in Paris. The Turks under Kemal Pasha, plus the Greeks under ex-King Tino did it. The whole thing constitutes a strange, mad, romantic chapter in world history.

Zaharoff was born 72 years ago in Constantinople in the Phanar quarter, a sort of Ghetto for Greeks. His parents were wealthy. They sent their son to England to be educated. Then they lost their fortune and the young man sought riches in shipping ventures on the Black Sea. He failed.

He came to England and became an employee of a growing firm of gun makers. His knowledge of languages and his fine manners won him a commission to represent the concern in South America. In that period war was the main business of the South American republics. Zaharoff made fat commissions from his sales there and bought a membership in the firm.

With riches came a desire to live in France. He bought a palace in Paris, furnished it in princely style, and became a French citizen. He was knighted by Great Britain's sovereign.

His investments were scattered all over Europe. He owns the noted Casino de Monte Carlo. An old man, he lived a quiet life, enjoying society, wines, pictures, luxury of all kinds, and avoiding publicity as a mole avoids daylight.

Then one day he met a Greek who disturbed him. This was Venizelos. Venizelos was a Greek who had led and fought for the independence of his native island of Crete and who had carried his activities over to the mainland, Athens. Unlike Zaharoff, he was not an aristocrat. He was of peasant farmer stock.

Zaharoff was rich. Venizelos was poor. Zaharoff had fought in the world of finance. Venizelos, forsak-

Virginia Gets Ready for Game With Generals

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 1.—A light workout Monday followed by a harder practice with scrimmage this afternoon made up the opening of Virginia's week of setting the house in readiness to receive the Washington and Lee eleven Saturday.

Opplinger was the only man who played in the Hopkins game last week who was unable to get out for the opening drill Monday but this heavy back was so badly crippled in the closing play of the game. Saturday that he had to be taken to the Johns-Hopkins Hospital and he was not able to get out on the field Monday.

In the short scrimmage Monday "Mike" Hubbard, one of the halfbacks whose injuries had kept him out of the play for the week, was able to return to the game. In the first play, against the scrubs he carried the ball for ten yards, and when he was again called upon he broke through for 18 yards. But in this play the old sprain weakened and he had to be helped limping from the field.

While the players were drilling a corps of carpenters was busy erecting the wooden stand that will be used by the Virginia student body for the games that served for part of the crowd at the V. M. I. game will probably do duty at one end of the field. From the orders for seats that are still coming in to Ellis Brown, graduate manager, it is being done to take care of the throngs that will pour into Charlottesville on the regular and the special trains Saturday morning.

Song and cheering practices are to be held several nights this week and the entire student body will be at the athletic rally to be held Friday night. This will be followed by a torchlight procession.

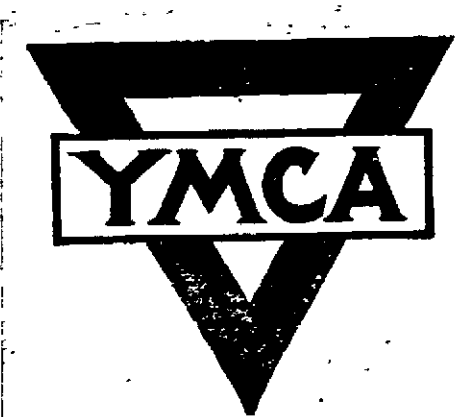

SCOUTS BEAT D. M. I. JUNIORS

The scout team of Troop II, B. S. A. won yesterday from D. M. I. Juniors 14 to 0. It was a hard-fought contest from start to finish. For the scouts Taylor played the stellar game, making a 70-yard run for a touchdown. For D. M. I. Treadway Gravelly was the best bet, making about 12 tackles.

The line-up:

Scouts	Position	D. M. I. Juniors
Jeppings	C	Harraway F.
Muslemann	R. G.	Harraway F.
Martin	L. G.	Gravelly T.
Bourman	R. T.	Vespa
Myers	L. T.	Tranglus
Jordan	R. E.	Cline
Withers H.	L. E.	Buonny
Blair	R. H.	Twissie
Taylor	L. H.	Poonang L.
Hughes	Q.	Gravelly
Trundle	F.	Sexias

Referee: Carter (D. M. I.) Umpire: Kemper (D. M. I.) Time of Quarters 12 minutes.

Senior Sunday School Basketball League players are starting practice for the opening games of the season, which will be the latter part of this month. The municipal hall floor has been secured for two nights each week and the senior games will be played on that floor.

An Intermediate and Junior S. S. League will be organized and these games will be played in the Y. M. C. A. gym. Teams desiring to enter either of these leagues should notify the director in the near future, in order that practice time can be arranged for.

The prospects are very bright for a good Y. M. C. A. basketball team and a call will be heard in a few days for candidates to report for practice.

The city volleyball league games will be played on the municipal hall floor, starting at 6 o'clock. First series of these games will be played from six to seven, second series from seven to eight. Several teams have already lined up and more are planning to enter. Eight teams will be all that can be arranged for.

ACCEPTANCE OF YALE'S CHALLENGE WAS DEFERRED

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—(By The Associated Press)—Iowa's acceptance of the invitation to meet Yale in an inter-collegiate football game in Chicago last week in 1923 probably will be deferred until after the meeting of a western conference faculty committee scheduled to be held here early in December. It was said in athletic circles today.

The faculty representative in passing the rule, desired to stop the practice of scheduling games that would require long trips and keep players away from their classes too long. It was pointed out that Ohio State University, as an example could play Yale, Princeton or Harvard or other eastern schools in the same time that it would require to make a trip to play Minnesota at Minneapolis. Chicago also could play Princeton and meet the students away from their classes for a longer period than it would require to make a trip to Minneapolis for a game with the Gophers.

The faculty representative in passing the rule, desired to stop the practice of scheduling games that would require long trips and keep players away from their classes too long. It was pointed out that Ohio State University, as an example could play Yale, Princeton or Harvard or other eastern schools in the same time that it would require to make a trip to play Minnesota at Minneapolis. Chicago also could play Princeton and meet the students away from their classes for a longer period than it would require to make a trip to Minneapolis for a game with the Gophers.

DANVILLE HAS DRAFTED LEROY

A list of eleven players drafted by minor league clubs was made public last night by J. H. Daniel, secretary of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. Herb Murphy has drafted Jack LeRoy from Greenville, Tenn.

The list showing clubs involved in the transactions included the following: Drafted by Birmingham Ala., from Charlotte, N. C. A. H. Trefry, by Chattanooga, Tenn., from Kitchener, Ont., Chas. Huddy, by Galveston, Tex. from Charlotte, N. C. Lew Wendell, by Calveson from Columbia, S. C. William Clarkson and E. J. Kearns, by Augusta, Ga., from Lake Land, Fla. W. S. Smythe, by Augusta, from High Point, N. C. J. G. Powell, by Danville, Va., from Greenville, Tenn. Jack Lelto, by Raleigh, N. C. from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, George Valentine.

MAJOR LEAGUE PLAYERS FREE

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 1.—Several major league baseball players now in Los Angeles are planning engagements for next season with clubs of the Pacific Coast League.

Walter Mails, pitcher for the Cleveland Americans has been given permission by the Indians' management to make a deal for himself with any Pacific League club. Mails announced here. Allen Sotherton, another Cleveland pitcher also has been given permission to negotiate for himself, Mails said.

Frank Shellenback, former pitcher for the Chicago Americans who was out of baseball last season because of a stiff arm will attempt a comeback with the Vernon Club of the Pacific League next spring, he announced.

NEEDY RUSSIANS OF CULTURE ARE STRANDED IN CRIMEA

MOSCOW, Nov. 1.—The Crimea, formerly the most exclusive and fashionable pleasure resort of Russia under the empire, is now the home of thousands of people of culture and refinement who today are in great need. They went there in the vain hope of escaping to other countries.

PEERY FILES STATEMENT OF HIS EXPENSE

By GEORGE H. MANNING,
Washington Correspondent of The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—In face of the charges made by Representative Eugene Steagor, George C. Peery, the Democratic candidate for the United States House of Representatives from the Ninth district of Virginia, filed a sworn report with the clerk of the House today declaring that he only spent $191.15 on his election up to October 2.

Mr. Peery asserts he has received contributions of $110 to his campaign, $500 coming from Mrs. George C. Peery and $10 from C. T. St. Clair. The sum fixed by law for each candidate is $5,000, to include both the primary and election campaigns.

John H. Hassinger, of Abingdon, who took Mr. Steagor's place as the Republican nominee in the Ninth, reported on October 28 that he had spent $2,460.25 and received no contributions. This sum was passed out to the county workers for filing petitions, notice of candidacy and other matters required by law. Mr. Hassinger asserts, and for newspaper advertisements, printing, etc.

In the Seventh District of Virginia where there is also a spirited contest between the two parties the candidates report small campaign expenses. Representative Thomas Harrison, of Winchester, Democrat reports he spent only $1,500 up to October 28. State Senator John Paul his Republican opponent, declares he spent only $451.74 up to October 26.

The biggest campaign expenditure to date was made in the primary in the Sixth (Roanoke) District, where Judge Clifton A. Woodruff clashed with Representative James P. Woods and came out victor. In this clash Woodruff spent about $3,000, he reports, and Colonel Woods expended about $1,800.

Reporting again on October 26, Judge Woodruff states he has spent nothing on his election. No campaign or primary expenses worthwhile are reported by the candidates in any of the other Virginia districts.

In the First, Representative Bland states he had no expense. His Republican opponent has filed no report. In the ninth, he reports $1,000. In the tenth, J. D. Houck, Jr., reported that he spent $1,508.50. Third—Representative A. J. Mumford spent nothing, he reports. Fourth—Representative Patrick H. Henry, of Petersburg, also reports he had no election expense. Fifth—Representative J. Murray Tucker had no primary expense, he states. His reports $299 expended on October 26.

Sixth—Representative James P. Woods reported on July 18 expenditure of $1,184.10 and on August 7, $2,561.19 more. Judge Woodruff reported $1,230.54 spent on August 1 and $1,871.33 more expended on August 12.

Seventh—Representative Harrison reported on October 28 the $1,500 had been spent in his campaign, and John Paul reported $451.74 spent.

Eighth—Representative R. Walton Moore had no primary campaign, and reports $175 spent on October 27. Tenth—Representative Harry St. George Tucker had no primary campaign expense and no election expenses to date, he reports.

The campaign expenses reported by the candidates in other states are universally much below those of other years, and the contributions to the contests have dwindled almost to nothing. The days of lavish expenditures on political campaigns appear to be now only a memory.

WITNESSES TO PROVE ACCUSED WAS NOT NORMAL

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 1.—The trial of Mrs. Clara Phillips, accused of murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, 20 year old widow, was resumed here today with the defense offering in evidence several depositions intended to prove the defendant is subnormal mentally and subject to "physical epilepsy" while her father, John Weaver, and her brother Henry, were not sane. When the reading of these depositions was completed the defense called Mrs. Wilhelmina Atkins on as the first witness. She testified that she was in a chorus in Sau-Antonio, Texas, in 1918 with Mrs. Phillips, and that they worked and roomed together for eight months. Mrs. Atkinson said that on one occasion she and Mrs. Phillips were reporting for work. Mrs. Phillips in what appeared to be a faint, was carried to a dressing room by the other chorus girls and was revived there. Mrs. Atkinson's explanation was that she "snapped out of it." Mrs. Atkinson then testified that on another occasion coming home one evening when Mrs. Phillips had not worked, she found the latter in bed, apparently in the coma. She said Mrs. Phillips' hands were gripped around the bed rail so that she was unable to unclasp them and that she called a doctor who restored Mrs. Phillips to consciousness. The witness said Mrs. Phillips later disclaimed any knowledge of what had happened.

At that time Mrs. Atkinson said, their room was a wreck. She said the bedding had been destroyed, the chairs broken, the water pitcher thrown out of the window and signs of a destructive activity were apparent.

After their engagement in San Antonio closed they went to Orange, Texas, where she said Mrs. Phillips had more of the attacks such as the ones described.

HAIRPIN THE WRONG COLOR

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 1.—A black hairpin found in a bed in the room of Kline Henderson, of Coatsville, cost him the love of his wife, and also a decree of Court today that he must pay her $3 a week for support. Mrs. Henderson testified that she married Henderson 10 years ago and moved with him from Coatsville to York, where he was manager of a movie house. She had gone away on a visit of two weeks, she said, and on her return found a black hairpin in the bed in her husband's room. She said he explained that his cousin had visited him and had used the room, but, as the cousin has light hair, Mrs. Henderson did not credit this, and, after investigation, found that a black-haired woman from another town had been there in her absence. The hairpin matched the latter's hair and her husband confessed and gave her $15 a week. When he had failed to pay for some months the suit was brought.

There are smiles that make us blue.

Free
At Stores Named Below
One 10-Day Tube

This week only, any store named below will hand you a 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent. Just present the coupon. Make this test now and watch the delightful effects. It will be a revelation.

Look Next Week See how teeth glisten when the film goes Note what beauty you have gained

For your sake and your family's sake, start making this test today. Then look next week and see the changes that occur. Millions of people of fifty nations are now brushing teeth in this new way. Dentists everywhere are urging them to do it. You can see the results wherever you look—in teeth that glisten as they never did before.

Now see them on your own teeth. Go get this free tube at your store.

Film makes teeth dingy
You feel on your teeth a viscous film. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Food stains, etc., cloud that film. Then it forms a thin dingy coat. Film is also the basis of tartar.

The ordinary tooth paste leaves much of that film intact. Thus most people's teeth, until lately, were clouded more or less. Beautiful teeth were less common.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Most tooth troubles are now traced to film. And, despite the tooth brush, they became almost universal.

Now millions combat it
Dental science has, for long, sought ways to fight that film. Two effective methods have been found. Able authorities, by careful tests, proved them beyond question. Now millions of people are using them daily, largely by dental advice.

One method acts to curdle film, the other to remove it. And this is done without the use of any harmful scouring agent.

A new-type tooth paste has been created, based on modern research. It includes some new essentials and avoids some old mistakes. The name is Pepsodent. These two great film combatants are embodied in it.

Film coats are more readily combated. The teeth become highly polished, so film less easily adheres.

Pepsodent also multiplies the starch digester in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize the acids which cause decay.

Thus Nature's great tooth-protecting agents are given manifold effect, while soap-and-chalk pastes reduce their power.

These results are bringing a new dental era in millions of homes the world over. And these whiter, safer, cleaner teeth mean life-long benefits. When you find them out, you will want your people to enjoy them.

Some Pepsodent effects
Film coats are more readily combated. The teeth become highly polished, so film less easily adheres.

Pepsodent also multiplies the starch digester in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize the acids which cause decay.

Thus Nature's great tooth-protecting agents are given manifold effect, while soap-and-chalk pastes reduce their power.

These results are bringing a new dental era in millions of homes the world over. And these whiter, safer, cleaner teeth mean life-long benefits. When you find them out, you will want your people to enjoy them.

These results are bringing a new dental era in millions of homes the world over. And these whiter, safer, cleaner teeth mean life-long benefits. When you find them out, you will want your people to enjoy them.

These results are bringing a new dental era in millions of homes the world over. And these whiter, safer, cleaner teeth mean life-long benefits. When you find them out, you will want your people to enjoy them.

These results are bringing a new dental era in millions of homes the world over. And these whiter, safer, cleaner teeth mean life-long benefits. When you find them out, you will want your people to enjoy them.

These results are bringing a new dental era in millions of homes the world over. And these whiter, safer, cleaner teeth mean life-long benefits. When you find them out, you will want your people to enjoy them.

These results are bringing a new dental era in millions of homes the world over. And these whiter, safer, cleaner teeth mean life-long benefits. When you find them out, you will want your people to enjoy them.

These results are bringing a new dental era in millions of homes the world over. And these whiter, safer, cleaner teeth mean life-long benefits. When you find them out, you will want your people to enjoy them.

These results are bringing a new dental era in millions of homes the world over. And these whiter, safer, cleaner teeth mean life-long benefits. When you find them out, you will want your people to enjoy them.

These results are bringing a new dental era in millions of homes the world over. And these whiter, safer, cleaner teeth mean life-long benefits. When you find them out, you will want your people to enjoy them.

These results are bringing a new dental era in millions of homes the world over. And these whiter, safer, cleaner teeth mean life-long benefits. When you find them out, you will want your people to enjoy them.

These results are bringing a new dental era in millions of homes the world over. And these whiter, safer, cleaner teeth mean life-long benefits. When you find them out, you will want your people to enjoy them.

THE BEE'S DAILY COMIC PAGE

Out Our Way

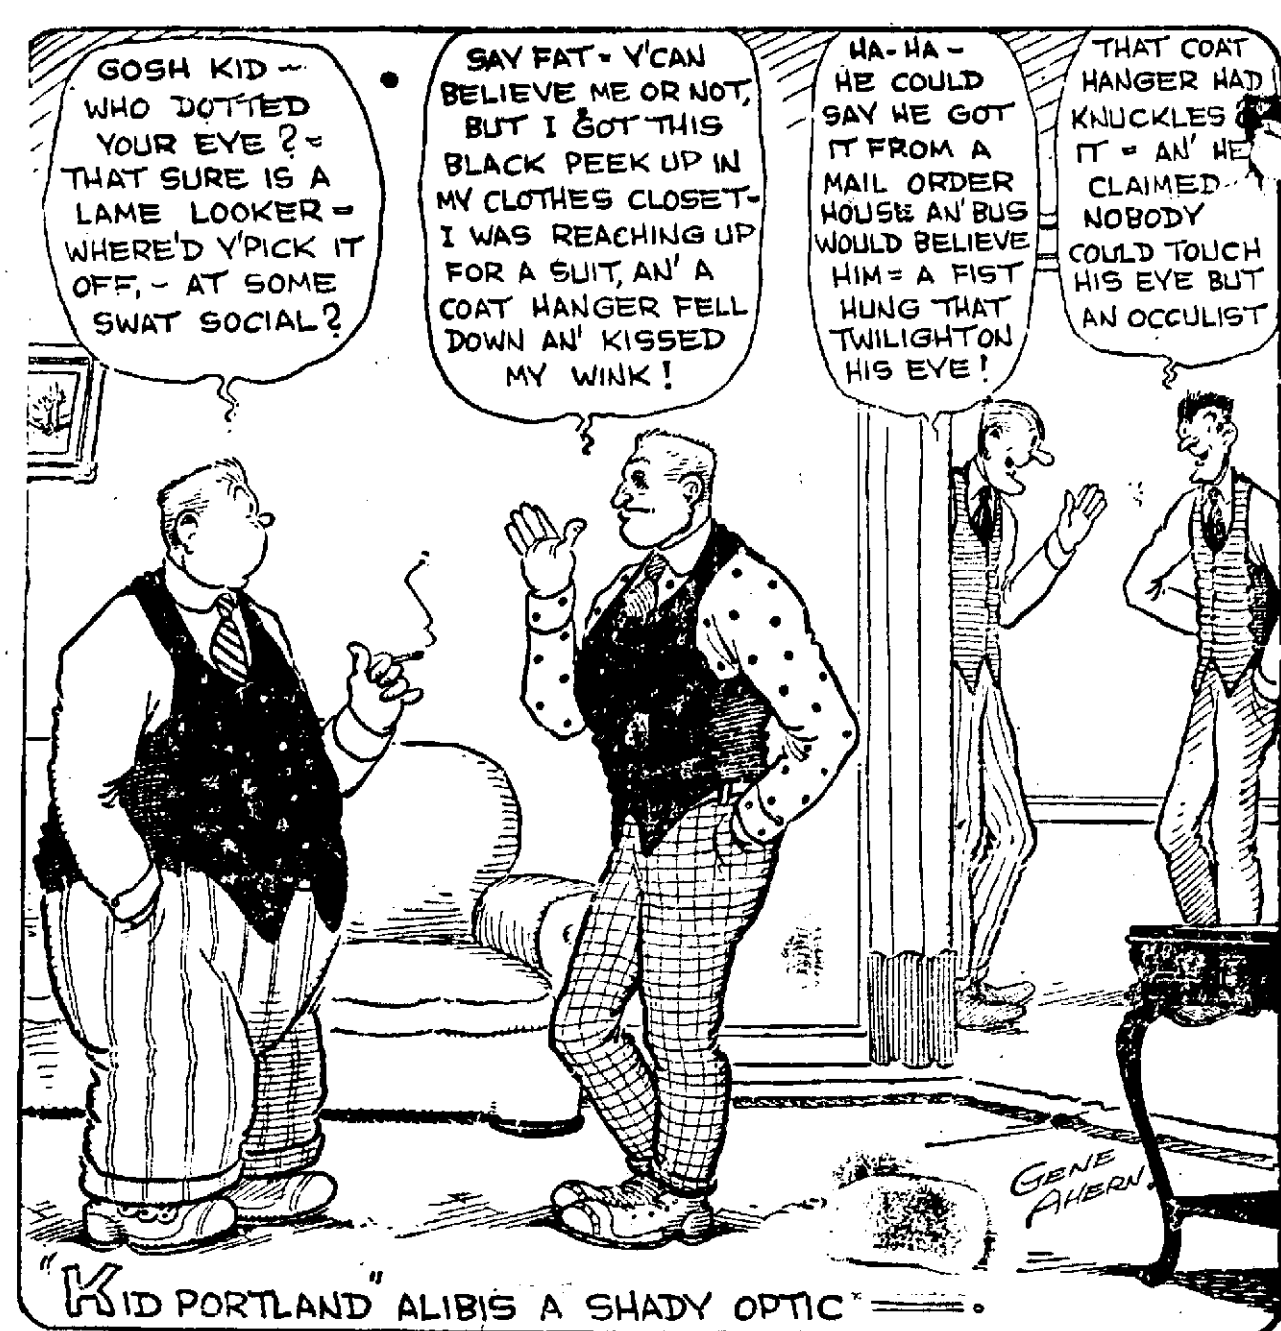

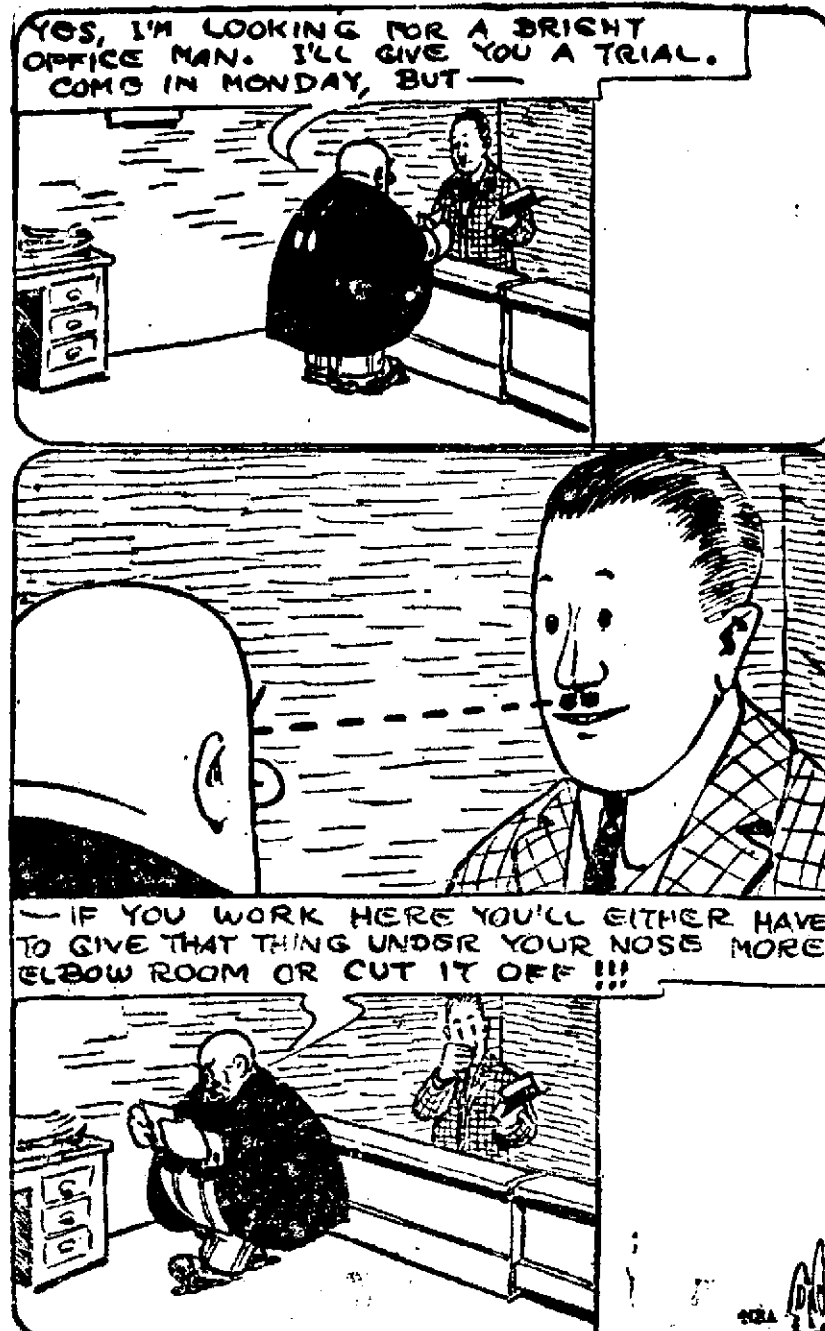

By Williams

Everett True

By Condo

Our Boarding House

By Ahern

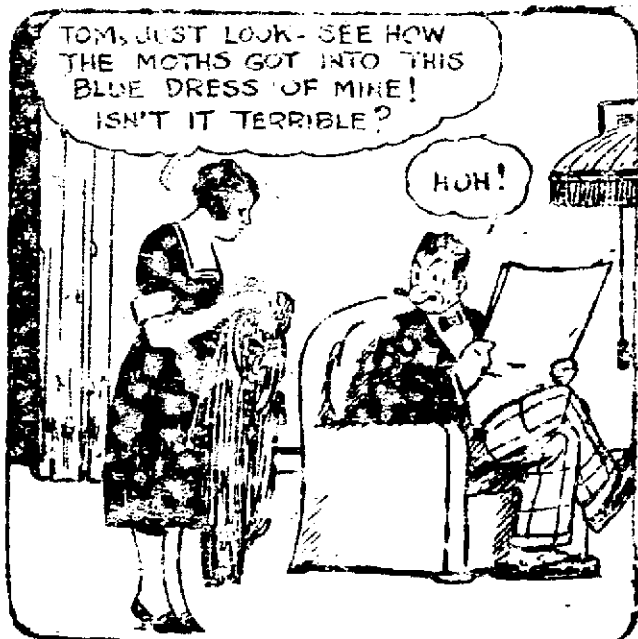

The Dufts By Allman

Showing a Sudden Interest

The Old Home Town

By Stanley

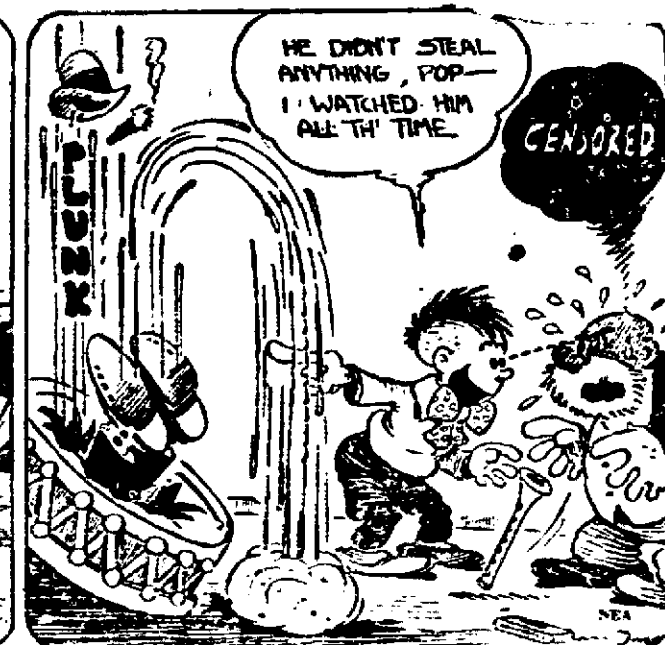

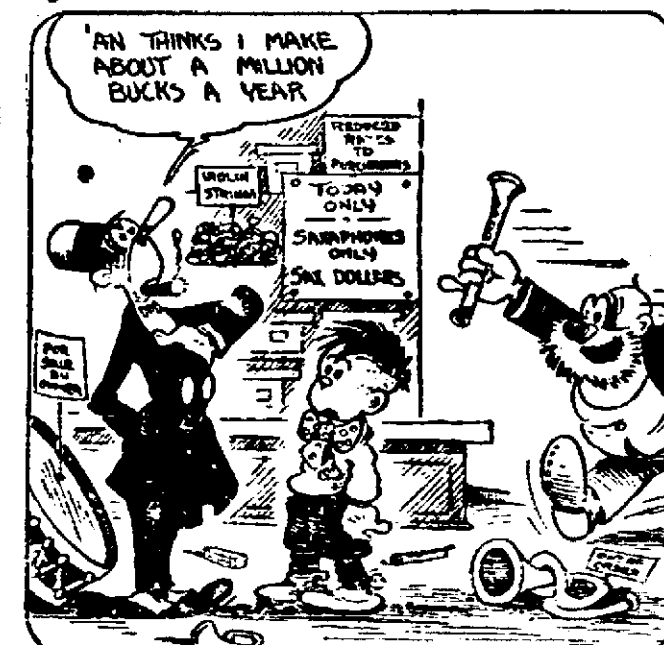

"TAKEN FROM LIFE" has not come up to the necessary requirements of The Bee and will be discontinued as soon as a desirable comic can be secured.

Salesman Sam

Flattery Gone Astray

By Swan

Freckles and His Friends

Sounds Like a Hint

By Blosser

Figgs and Maggie, Polly and Her Pals and Mutt and Jeff Every Day in The Register

Read The Bee Want Ads Daily for Bargains

Want Ad Rates

THIS SIZE TYPE
 6¢ a line Register or Bee, less per cent 10 consecutive insertions.
 10¢ a line Register and Bee less 10 per cent for 10 consecutive insertions.
 Rate for 4 months 7¢ a line Register or Bee, or 12¢ a line Register and Bee.
 Rate for 12 months, 6¢ a line Register or Bee, or 19¢ a line Register and Bee.

THIS SIZE TYPE
 15¢ a line Register or Bee, less 10 per cent for 10 consecutive insertions.
 25¢ a line Register and Bee when run five consecutive times, less 10 per cent for 12 months.
 All Want Ads are payable in advance.
 Want Ads the cheapest way to advertise. The Register and Bee have over 60,000 daily readers.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

UNION HARDWARE COMPANY for Winchester guns and ammunition. 11-2 R&B 21.

YOUR STATE TAXES for year, 1922, now due; pay and save the penalty. G. P. Geoghegan, Treasurer. 10-31 R&B 11.

THE BEST IS ALWAYS the cheapest. Call Farley Plumbing and Heating Co. BR 11.

REAL ESTATE

Classified Ads in the Register and Bee with a fine color plate at a small cost.

YOU CAN SAVE 5 PER cent, by paying your State taxes now. G. P. Geoghegan, Treasurer. 10-31 R&B 11.

J. H. OAKES & SONS Hardware & Sporting Goods 115 Market St. 10-4 R&B 11.

Special Tire & Tube Sale
 55x3 fabric tires $5.75
 50x3 1-2 cord tires $1.00
 50x3 1-2 cord tires $1.15
 Tubes, grey $1.15
 Tubes, red $1.15
AUTO TIRE SALES CO.
 108 old Market St.
 9-30-22 B 11.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

IN CHICAGO NORMAL.

(BY A. D. WILSON)

CHICAGO, November 1.—Considered in general business conditions in this territory are normal except for the slowness of price adjustments.

Some merchants complain that the mild weather has checked buying of clothing, furs and coal but this condition is merely temporary.

Farm produce have not advanced proportionately with other commodities, prices and agriculturists are buying with extreme moderation but their purchases are very high buying is tremendous and farmers and millers are the big buyers of this section.

Food markets show a steady movement of canned goods, but buyers are not looking over thirty days ahead. Prices are unchanged.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

WE ARE STILL IN DANVILLE—North Danville, South Danville and Danville. Buck Roofing Co. are the roofers and furnace men. Phone 520-W. 559 or 411-30, and call for A. Y. Buck. 12-31 R&B 101.

NEW MUSIC

For the latest song "Hills" in sheet music or in player rolls or records come to Frix's. Teachers, we are adding the celebrated Schirmer Edition to our other complete stocks of teaching music and books. Frix's, Main St. 10-31 R&B 21.

DON'T DELAY, BUT

pay your State taxes and save 5 per cent. G. P. Geoghegan, Treasurer. 10-31 R&B 11.

W. R. EDMUNDS & COMPANY,

Heating and Plumbing, 321 Craghead Street. Phone 2137 and 1367. R&B 11.

Phonographs and Records

Lowest prices and biggest stocks are at Frix's. Large assortment of styles. Also records for all makes machines. Terms if desired Frix's, Main St. opp postoffice. 10-31 R&B 21.

CALL AT CITY TREASURER'S OFFICE

and pay your State taxes and save penalty. G. P. Geoghegan, Treasurer. 10-31 R&B 11.

NOTICE

We carry a high-grade stock of new furniture at all times and the prices are reasonable. Clutter Furniture Co., 209 N. Union St. 10-31 R&B 11.

STAR BRAND SHOES ARE better. Dodson's Shoe Store, 128 N. Union street. 8-24-21.

LET US WASH YOUR CLOTHES,

we do it, we call for and deliver, phone 321 for wagon. Wet Wash Laundry 10-17 B11.

IMPROVEMENT NOTED

IN MANUFACTURING LINES (BY I. V. SHANNON)

NEW ORLEANS, November 1.—The greatest improvement noted in commercial circles here today is in the manufacturing and jobbing lines.

Figures not available indicate that the retail trade of this section for October will show a gain of approximately 15 per cent over October, 1921. Practically every line of wholesale business and manufacturing reports a steady increase. There is a marked improvement in the call for money for business expansion.

Cash transactions are becoming larger and most debts are being liquidated in most satisfactory fashion.

The drug business, which lagged throughout the entire summer, began to improve near the end of September and October proved the biggest month of the year so far.

There are 175 distilleries in the average watch.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Danville Vulcanizing Co. Tire and Tube repairs a specialty, 308 Patton street Phone 1908. 10-25 B11.

M. L. Gunnell Transfer Co. Taxi Service. Cadillac and Ford cars. dan service. Phone 1731. 115 Craghead St. 10-30 B11.

Ashworth's Meat Market. Phone 2084, orders delivered 10-31 B11.

JOIN OUR NEW CLASSES STARTING November 1 and 6. Day and night school. Shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping, penmanship, all commercial branches. Call, write or phone 2188 for full information. Danville Commercial College. 11-1 R&B 11.

WAGONS FOR SALE One and two-horse farm wagons, two spring delivery wagons, prices right. Danville Wagon Co. 10-29 R&B 11.

MORE MILK GUARANTEED in feeding Larro. See Larro ad in this paper. Ask your dealer for Larro-Feed. Take no substitute. 10-30 B11.

LOST AND FOUND. LOST—FEMALE COLLIE DOG brown body and white feet and breast. Tag No. 28710. Finder notify Mrs. Jule W. Smith, phone 411-02. 10-31 B11.

STRAYED FROM HOME ON River Road—one black and white spotted, long eared female pig. Finder please call 351-04. Reward. R&B 11.

FOUND—POCKET-BOOK, IN lobby Commercial Bank. R&B 11.

LOST—MALE SETTER DOG, white body with brown spot on ear. Finder call 1377-1. 11-2 B11.

WANTED MISCELLANEOUS WANTED AT ONCE—SMALL amount of capital to increase a good profitable business in the city. Address Y. X. care The Bee. 11-2 B11.

HOUSE WANTED Must be in good living section. Address, P. O. Box 101. 11-1 B11.

WANTED—TWO OR THREE furnished rooms, possession No. 1 "H. M." care Register. 10-26 R&B 11.

SITUATIONS WANTED WANTED—POSITION AS STEENOGRAPHY-BOOKKEEPER by young lady. Willing to start at reasonable salary. Address "A. A." care The Register. 10-31 B11.

WANTED—AT ONCE, POSITION by young lady with one year's clerical experience, answer "X" care Bee. 11-2 B11.

WANTED—BY YOUNG MAN, position in clothing or shoe store. Address G. L. care Bee. 11-2 B11.

DEMAND FOR HOSIERY AND KNIT GOODS IMPROVED (BY FRANK MCLEAN)

PHILADELPHIA, November 1.—Textile manufacturers are rejoicing today over the improvement in demand for hosiery, underwear and knit goods.

Wool factories are getting more business and men's and boys' clothing is in excellent demand. The hat manufacturers are working at capacity as are the makers of women's shoes.

Building contractors report that they work on hand to run all available men in the building trades for three months, even in no new projects, were started. Automobile distribution is active with the demand mostly for closed cars.

Choir boys are not suited to church singing owing to their lack of understanding of the meaning of the words they sing, according to one London rector.

Lady Byng Weds

Lady Eleanor Byng and H. E. Atkinson leaving St. Michael's Church in London after their wedding attended by the leaders of English society.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank everyone who in any way contributed to our comfort during the illness and death of our dear baby, especially do we thank those who so kindly sent flowers and cards.

MONROE HATHENS & FAMILY SIR KNIGHTS ATTENTION

Sir Knight: Attend a stated convocation of Dove Commandery No. 7, K. T. to be held in Fairfax Hall, Nov. 2, 1922, at 7:30 p. m. D. H. PRINN, 11-2 R&B Recorder

NOTICE Mr. J. T. Smith is now with us and will be pleased to have his friends call. Rich-Moore, Inc. Masonic Temple Building. 10-30 B&R 21.

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS

FOR SALE—GOOD WORK horse, gentle. See owner at 117 Craghead St. 11-2 R&B 21.

FOR SALE—STEREOTYPE mats, 18x23 inches, best for lining outhouses; $1.25 a hundred. Register office. 10-26 R&B 11.

FOR SALE—CHEAP, SINGER sewing machine, motor attached, phone 470-W. 11-2 B11.

FOR SALE—2 COWS AND SOME chickens. No. 15 Talbot St., at Ballou Park. 11-2 B11.

FOR SALE—11 PURE-BRED black minora pullets, March hatched, $1.25 each. Mrs. Alex Chaney, Ringgold Va. 11-2 R&B 11.

WAGONS FOR SALE One and two-horse farm wagons, two spring delivery wagons, prices right. Danville Wagon Co. 10-29 R&B 11.

FOR SALE—NEW 5-ROOM cottage at Stokesland, price $2100. 5-room cottage on N. Main St., ext. price $2000. Easy terms. R. M. Chittin. Phone 1732. 11-1 B11.

FOR SALE—CHEAP TO QUICK purchaser, modern 7-room bungalow, Virginia Ave. large lot, no information over phone. Ramey & Ashworth. 11-1 B11.

WE HAVE PLACED WITH US for sale today two very desirable 60-foot lots on North Main extension. Patton, Temple & Williamson. 11-1 R&B 21.

FOR RENT—ROOMS 1 FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOMS with modern conveniences, on car line, also garage; men only. R&B 21.

FOR RENT—1 FURNISHED and 2 unfurnished rooms, suitable for couple. Possession at once. 641 Wilcox St. 10-31 B11.

FOR RENT—3 DESIRABLE rooms for light housekeeping. Box 957 City. 10-31 B11.

FOR RENT—ONE STEAM HEAT ed furnished room for gentlemen. 847 Main St. 11-1 B11.

FOR RENT—ONE STEAM HEAT ed furnished room. Phone 965-J. 11-2 B11.

FOR RENT—THREE CONNECT ing rooms. Carters Spring cottage, wood furnished, free access to Carters Spring water, see R. W. Carter, Danville Hardware, or phone 427-05.

FOR RENT—ONE FIVE-ROOM house with modern conveniences. West Patton St., apply J. Rosenberg, across from Bee office. 11-1 B11.

FOR RENT—4-ROOM APART ment with kitchenette and bath. Partly heated. Mrs. E. Green, 841 Patton Ave. 11-2 B11.

DEMAND FOR HOSIERY AND KNIT GOODS IMPROVED (BY FRANK MCLEAN)

PHILADELPHIA, November 1.—Textile manufacturers are rejoicing today over the improvement in demand for hosiery, underwear and knit goods.

Wool factories are getting more business and men's and boys' clothing is in excellent demand. The hat manufacturers are working at capacity as are the makers of women's shoes.

Building contractors report that they work on hand to run all available men in the building trades for three months, even in no new projects, were started. Automobile distribution is active with the demand mostly for closed cars.

Choir boys are not suited to church singing owing to their lack of understanding of the meaning of the words they sing, according to one London rector.

Lady Byng Weds

Lady Eleanor Byng and H. E. Atkinson leaving St. Michael's Church in London after their wedding attended by the leaders of English society.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank everyone who in any way contributed to our comfort during the illness and death of our dear baby, especially do we thank those who so kindly sent flowers and cards.

MONROE HATHENS & FAMILY SIR KNIGHTS ATTENTION

Sir Knight: Attend a stated convocation of Dove Commandery No. 7, K. T. to be held in Fairfax Hall, Nov. 2, 1922, at 7:30 p. m. D. H. PRINN, 11-2 R&B Recorder

NOTICE Mr. J. T. Smith is now with us and will be pleased to have his friends call. Rich-Moore, Inc. Masonic Temple Building. 10-30 B&R 21.

HELP WANTED

WANTED AT ONCE—EXPER IENCED OVERALL FELLERS. EXPERIENCED OR INEXPERIENCED SHIRT AND PANTS OPERATIVES. HIGHEST PIECE WORK PRICES. PERMANENT EMPLOYMENT. APPLY OLD DOMINION GARMENT COMPANY, LYNCHBURG, VA. 11-2 R&B 11.

EXPERIENCED SALES lady wanted for millinery department. Only one with experience considered. Apply Johnson's Dept. Store. 11-2 B11.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED stitchers on overalls, at once. Apply. Caswell Mfg. Co., Kingston, N. C. 11-1 B11.

SALES AGENTS, BOTH SEX—to become district managers selling Nuttall silk hosiery direct to consumer. Write for particulars, Nuttall Hosiery Mills, Head Bldg., Phila., Pa. 11-1 B11.

CIGAR SALESMAN WANTED—$125 month and expenses. Former experience not necessary. Send addressed stamped envelope for information. National Cigar Co. High Point, N. C. 11-1 B11.

WHITE BARBER WANTED—Must be first class. Pay seventy per cent. C. T. Green, Oxford, N. C. 11-1 B11.

FOR SALE—AUTOMOBILES BUY A CAR AT YOUR OWN price. Southern Auto Company going out of business; special sale going on October 31st-November 4th. Bridge Street near Piedmont Hardware Company; new cars, trucks, come, bring your friends; an opportunity you will not have again. 11-1 R&B 11.

FOR SALE—AT BARGAIN, SIX-cylinder Buick touring car in good condition. Can be seen at Dan Valley Motor Co. 11-2 B11.

BIG AUTO SALE Used cars

1921 Buick six touring

1921 Buick six touring

1920 Buick seven passenger

1918 Buick seven passenger

1918 Buick six touring

One Dodge roadster

One Hudson seven passenger

One Reo roadster

These are exceptional values

Dan-Valley Motor Co.,

320 Craghead St.

11-1 B11.

FOR SALE—OAKLAND CAR IN good condition. 250.00. Apply to Mrs. Dacus, 17 Augusta St., Schoolfield Va. 11-1 B11.

Fire Hero!

John O'Donnell, 17, was the hero of the incendiary fire that cost 14 lives in a New York tenement. Young O'Donnell, passing when the fire was discovered, rushed into the burning building, aroused sleeping occupants on the upper floors and carried three children to safety.

TRUSTEE SALE—Pursuant to the terms of a deed of trust from William Broadman and wife dated June 1st 1921, recorded in the Clerk's Office of the Corporation Court of Danville, Va. in a deed book 115 at page 267, default having been made in the payment of the debt there in secured and at the request of the beneficiary in said deed we will offer for sale at public auction, on the premises on Tuesday, November 14th, 1922, at 1:30 p. m.

All of that certain lot of land situate in Danville Va., fronting forty-five feet on the northern side of Harrison street and measuring back therefrom one hundred and one feet, being the same lot conveyed in the above mentioned deed of trust.

TERMS CASH

F. H. WHEATLEY, A. D. KEHN, J. E. GILBERT, Trustees

11-1 B11.

RIGHT FROM THE FARM!

There is a wealth of health-foods on the farm that comes to us fresh and inviting. And we know how to take care of and properly cook the vegetables and fruits we serve you. Do not wait another day to try this service.

Good food well served

LEELAND CAFETERIA Or Self Service

11-1 B11.

FOR RENT MAIN STREET STOREHOUSE

Now occupied by Patterson Drug Co. Possession Nov. 1st.

WADDILL-HOLLAND CO. Inc.

Hotel Burton Corner

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

11-2 R&B 11.

CAREFUL HANDLING

Is accorded all of the laundry received by us, but we pay special attention to the washing of delicate fabrics, especially your lace window draperies. You can rest assured that they will be returned in first-class shape.

LACE CURTAINS LAUN- DERED AT 50c PAIR

Home of the Snow-White Finish.

ST. LAUNDRY

PHONE No. 85

LAUNDRY CO.

331-333 PATTON STREET

Bridal Pair Killed Accidentally As Gas Vitiating Air, Is Verdict

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Concluding that Daniel Cohen, twenty-two, of No. 227 Ashburton avenue, Yonkers, and his bride, whose dead bodies were found Sunday night in the bathroom of their home, were neither murdered nor committed suicide, but were accidentally killed by carbon monoxide gas, the authorities yesterday afternoon abandoned investigation of the case.

Lieutenants Cooper and Ford, in charge of the detectives, first reached this theory. Later the physicians and Coroner Snowden of Peekskill came to the same verdict.

The gas in the oven and in the heater of the water tank was burning when the bodies were found. The investigators conclude that unconscious gas seeping into the rooms destroyed the oxygen in the air and suffocated the couple.

The autopsy showed no marks of violence or symptoms of poison, except gas poisoning.

The parents of the dead man, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cohen of No. 129 Vineyard avenue, Yonkers, abandoned the theory of murder early in the day. They rejected the suggestion of suicide entirely. Mrs. Cohen, the mother, said:

"My boy and his wife were happy. Nobody had any cause to harm them. They must have fainted, or met with some accident. The house was fastened from the inside and nobody could have killed them."

The body of the young woman was found partly submerged by water and the legs hanging over the side of the bath tub. Cohen was found facing downward on the floor with one hand resting on the tub.

The victims were buried yesterday afternoon with a double funeral service. Rabbi Jacob Mendelsohn officiated at the house and the interment was in Mount Hope cemetery, near Yonkers.

They had been married less than six weeks. Before her marriage Mrs. Cohen was Miss Frances Israel of No. 374 Riverside avenue, Yonkers. She was the daughter of Joseph Israel of Lakewood, N. J. She was twenty-four years old.

The dead man was twenty-two years old and a draughtsman in a cable factory in Yonkers.

Dennis F. Keel, D. D. S.

Orthodontia Exclusively

Receives Infirmity, Greensboro, N. C.

DO YOU GET SERVICE OUT OF YOUR CAR?

If Not

Let Davis Do It

Service and Satisfaction Guaranteed

DAVIS & COLLIE MOTOR CO.

Rear Leeland Hotel.

Vacuum Cup Cord Tires

Thrive on punishment. They cost no more than ordinary makes, though they pile up a heap of miles long after inferior makes are done. For a limited time, a Tube Free with each casing.

K. C. AREY

Here's Your Chance to Pick Up good slightly Used Cars.

1 1921 model 7-Passenger Cadillac in A-1 Condition.

1 1922 Model Hupp Touring with combination winter and summer Badger top.

1 Dodge Touring.

1 Dodge Roadster.

1 1920 model Buick Touring.

1 Studebaker 7-Passenger.

1 Oakland with light delivery body.

J. E. FEARINGTON & SON

Danville, Va.

South Union St. Phone 1103

20% REDUCTION

On all Jewelry, Watches and Clocks. Watch, Clock and Jewelry Repairing.

G. C. Taylor's JEWELRY STORE.

119 MARKET STREET.

"WE ARE NOT SATISFIED UNTIL YOU ARE"

this trite business axiom, which has been practiced by us for over thirty-seven years, is the foundation of our success and your assurance of eyeglass satisfaction.

Ask your Oculist.

The S. Galeski Optical Co.

Manufacturing and Dispensing Opticians

800 MAIN STREET. KODAK HEADQUARTERS

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

We have a large assortment of all kinds of musical instruments, new and second-hand, also strings and accessories.

Kingoff Bros.

310 MAIN STREET. PHONE 402 W

YOUR HEADACHE

Nine times out of ten your headaches are caused by eye defects. Medicine will not relieve these eye headaches, but a pair of LEVINSON'S Glasses made specially for your eyes will.

I TEST THE EYES AND GRIND THE LENSES

DR. B. LEVINSON

OPTICIAN

Over the First National Bank Danville, Va.

MADEMOISELLE CECILE SOREL

And France does not want America to become independent in the matter of fashion.

"The most startling thing I brought with me is a hat of diamond and pearls, worth $100,000."

The gowns and hat were shipped immediately to Canada, in the care of two detectives, and New York gets no glimpse of them until she returns here for her month's engagement.

When I saw her at the Ritz she was reclining on a chaise longue, who reclines because it is becoming, with the knowing grace of a woman, not because she is weary, attired in a negligee of blue and silver brocade and pink satin slippers outfitted with pink swansdown.

About her throat were yards of pearls and on one hand she wore a ring with an emerald the size of a plum, on the other a pearl of similar outline. The only diamonds she wore were set in her pearl earrings.

Judged by our standards, she is not beautiful, but she has the vivacity, charm, assurance and the ready wit that characterize the women of beauty I ever experienced when we came up the bay."

Mademoiselle Sorel is the first visitor from France who has not complained about our prohibition(?). "Why should you drink wine?" she asked. "There is champagne in your air."

"Do not worry about styles," she assured me in parting. "I originated a number of things before I left, and when I return, I promise you the most startling inspirations of my career."

WASHINGTON HAS the Oldest Mule

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 31.—The State of Washington claims the oldest mule living. She belongs to the name of "Jessie," and according to the closest reckoning possible, she is at least 33 years old.

"Jessie was brought to me Walla Walla Valley in 1893 by the Federal Government, where she was used as one of a team of six to haul freight from the city of Walla Walla to Fort Walla Walla. She served within a year of three terms of army enlistment, being "honorably discharged" from the army service when Fort Walla Walla was abandoned as a military post in 1910.

The remainder of her years she has spent at the State Penitentiary here, but not as a "prisoner." She hauls a dumpcart, driven by a negro trusty.

MUSSOLINI, ITALIAN LEADER, IS WORLD'S YOUNGEST PREMIER

ROME, Nov. 1.—One of the world's youngest political leaders today is entering here. As King Victor Emmanuel on the formation of a new Italian cabinet in which he will act as premier and besides will take on his youthful shoulders three separate portfolios.

He is Benito Mussolini, 33—before the war a leader of Italian Socialists and now head of the most bitter anti-radical body in the world, the Fascists.

Mussolini's political career started when he fought his way to the leadership of the Italian Socialist party. He became editor of their newspaper, "Avanti!" That was immediately before the outbreak of the World War in 1914.

When the war came German Socialists voted as a bloc to support the emperor in his military adventures. When Italy entered the lists on the side of the allies, Mussolini wished his followers to give the same support to Italy.

Break With Socialists.

The Italian Socialists refused. Then Mussolini broke with them. He enlisted in the army.

The ex-Socialist leader came back from the front after the armistice covered with wounds and medals and bearing in his heart a bitter hatred for the Italian radicals who had failed their country in its time of need.

He found Italian industrial and economic life upset. Unemployment was rife and Italy's great economic safety valve—emigration to the United States—had been cut off.

These conditions had prepared a fertile spawning ground for bohemian propaganda. Agitators, many of them inspired by funds sent from abroad, were at work in all of Italy's industrial centers and were gaining many converts.

Then the germ of the Fascist organization was born in Mussolini's mind. He began landing together his former army comrades in political groups, sworn to oppose the red flag both at the voting booths and through "direct action" with sticks, stones or rifles.

By the beginning of this year Mussolini had organized a large young army, all ready to do his bidding.

In answer the political extremists issued a general strike. Mussolini declared the strike by putting his troops between the strikers and the strikers had quit.

This interrupted the bitterness between the bohemian elements and the Fascists. They became friends.

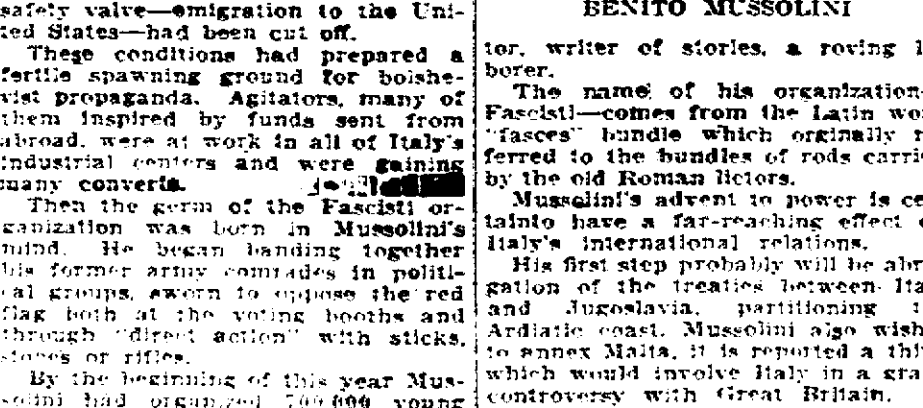

At the king's request Mussolini the summer dissolved his forces to aid in restoring order. But he did not demobilize. His political party took the form of a militia.

Young Steps Into Breach.

When general elections failed to establish a government that could last, Mussolini came forward and now he has taken the office and is making a political nation feel.

Mussolini is the son of an iron worker. But he is versed in music, art and literature and speaks several languages.

He has been a school teacher, editor, writer of stories, a roving laborer.

BENITO MUSSOLINI

The name of his organization—Fascist—comes from the Latin word "fascis" bundle which originally referred to the bundles of rods carried by the old Roman dictators.

Mussolini's advent to power is certainly have a far-reaching effect on Italy's international relations.

His first step probably will be abrogation of the treaties between Italy and Yugoslavia, partitioning the Adriatic coast. Mussolini also wishes to annex Malta. It is reported a thing which would involve Italy in a grave controversy with Great Britain.

Swimming Girl Found; Police See kKidnapper

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 1.—Raymond Eugene Wilson was arrested here today for investigation in connection with the abduction in Muskegon Sunday of 11-year-old Rosalie Shanty, who was found in the woods of Manistee County last night in a serious condition from exposure. Wilson, described by police as tall, with that of the man who enticed the child into an automobile as she returned from Muskegon church and drove out of the city with her, against her protests.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Nov. 1.—Suffering from exposure, her clothing hanging in shreds and her body cut and bruised by brambles, Rosalie Shanty, eleven-year-old swimming and diving marvel, lies in a serious condition at a Dublin, Mich., today, while officers of Manistee county are scouring the jack pine swamp for a man who kidnapped her from her home here Sunday. A physician who is in constant attendance at the bedside of the child at the home of Fred Zink, Dublin, is reported by officers as having said that the girl had been attacked and roughly handled. Reports received late today were that the girl has a high fever and that her condition was growing steadily worse.

When found by Joe Peesky, a farmer, three and a half miles east of Dublin last night, Rosalie was wet from splashing through a small creek, and her body was bleeding from barbed wire and underbrush cuts. The girl wore no hat and underclothing.

Rosalie was kidnapped Sunday as she returned from church, when a man drove up to her home, declaring he was the father of one of the girl's little chums. He asked the child's mother if Rosalie could come and have dinner with his daughter. Mrs. Shanty is said to have given her consent with the proviso that Rosalie must be home before dark.

Religion and Law Discussed By Judge

GOLDSBORO, Oct. 31.—"I cannot find Paul Swinson guilty of selling goods on Sunday, for in my opinion it is not a sin to sell on Sunday," declared Judge S. D. Bland in recorder's court yesterday after one preacher, a dozen of the citizens living on Williams street and other parts of the city and two lawyers hired by them, had tried all day to secure the conviction of Swinson on charges of selling gasoline and Coca-Cola on Sunday. There were two other warrants against Swinson, one charged him with blocking the street and a third with "committing a public nuisance." Judge Bland found him guilty of the last charge, stating that it was the manner in which he conducted his business and not the fact that he was conducting it on Sunday for which he found him guilty. "The courts are taking the position now he said, 'it is not our duty to run religion of any kind down people's throat.'"

City Councilman Hodgson of Winchester Resigns

WINCHESTER, Oct. 31.—Clifton M. Hodgson, city councilman, indicted recently for petit larceny in connection with alleged defalcations from the Beck Baking Corporation, where he was bookkeeper, and who mortgaged valuable properties to secure his former employers resigned today as councilman from the first ward. His failure to do so earlier is understood to have prompted the grand jury to act. Hodgson left town the day before the indictments were returned.

ESCAPED PARON ARRESTED

ALAMOSA, Colo., Oct. 31.—Garbed in overalls and working as a day laborer in the railroad yards here, the Rev. J. C. Trotter, former pastor of the Halesville, Okla., Methodist church, was arrested today on charge of embezzling church funds. Trotter, who escaped from the McAlester, Okla., jail while awaiting trial, admitted his identity and added that others were implicated in the case.

Trotter had been working here several days under the name of Oscar Kinsey. He said he would not fight extradition.

D. A. Atchison & Co.

524 Royal St. Danville Va.

Christmas Remembrances

His year more people than ever will decide on the Photograph as a happy token to give to those whose friendship they wish to hold and cherish.

A dozen photographs will solve a dozen puzzling gift problems. Make an appointment today.

Duntord's Studio

317 MAIN ST.

TODAY—BROADWAY—TODAY

Betty Compson in "The Law and the Woman"

THE ARISTOCRAT OF THRILLERS!

The drama that "made" Clyde Fitch and stirred the souls of countless thousands in America's leading theatres. Now, with all its thundering conflict, all its class and dash and "high life" fashion, flashing on the screen.

A brilliant big supporting cast and beautiful Betty Compson in a role she was born to play.

COMEDY

GOODMAN'S DE LUXE ORCHESTRA

MAJESTIC

TONIGHT

Curtain 8:30 p. m.

LOOK WHO'S COMING AGAIN!!

SMITH & CO. Present

AL STAR MINSTRELS

MELODY LAND

WAY DOWN SOUTH

OLD BLACK JOES

THE BLACKVILLE GUARDS

Seats Now on Sale at Box Office

Prices $2.00 to 50c, Plus Tax

Music For Everybody

No home should be without music of some kind. It is a tragic error to raise children up in these days without giving them the opportunity to learn music.

The Piano

Is the standard of all instruments—the foundation of music. Most families can have a piano and they last a lifetime.

THE BEST MAKES are sold at this store. We have supplied more than two thousand families, schools and churches in this vicinity.

CONVENIENT TERMS are cheerfully arranged for you.

PARLOR ORGANS, For those who prefer the organ we have a large stock at the most reasonable prices.

PHONOGRAPHS

We carry the celebrated Pathe line also other good makes. Thousands of the best records carried in stock. Be sure to come here for the phonograph. Prices are much lower than formal.

STRINGED INSTRUMENTS of all kinds and accessories.

SHEET MUSIC including all the popular and standard music for musician and teacher.

A welcome awaits you here always

FRIX'S

Established 20 Years

Opp. Postoffice Danville, Va.

Now is the Time To Have Your Linoleum Laid

"The Bledsoe Way."

Sinclair Extra Heavy Tractor Oil

5 Gallons—$1.00.

Sinclair Heavy Tractor Oil

5 Gallons—$3.75

In customers' cans only

Tractor owners will be benefitted by arranging for our Tank Truck to deliver Kerosene and Motor and Tractor Oils.

SPECIAL—While they last! Drums with Faucets—$3.00.

Automotive Service Corporation

Operating

West End Service Station

North Side Service Station

Schoolfield Service Station

ARE YOU ONE OF THE MANY WAITING UNTIL CHRISTMAS FOR A NEW FORD CAR

If you don't need your old Ford car now we can sell it for you. See us today before the snow falls

CROWELL AUTO CO., Inc.

Craghead at Newton

Phone 2120

ARE YOU ONE OF THE MANY WAITING UNTIL CHRISTMAS FOR A NEW FORD CAR

If you don't need your old Ford car now we can sell it for you. See us today before the snow falls

CROWELL AUTO CO., Inc.

Craghead at Newton

Phone 2120